TWO EXCITING CONTESTS.

Arthur and Vanity Fair the Winners.

The fall meeting of the Prospect Park Grounds Association was inaugurated yesterday with two very interesting trotting events, the first being between horses that had never beaten three minutes, and the second between horses that had never trotted better than 2:31. There were twenty-one entries and ten starters for the first trot, and nine entries and five starters for the other. There were five heats in each race, which were very closely contested. The track was in admirable order, and the weather very pleasant. The attendance was not as large as it should have been for such fine sport as was on the card. The following are the details of the trotting:—

THE FIRST TROT.

First Heat.—Before the start the field was the favorite over T. J. Stevens, Cheston and Arthur. When the word was given Andrew had the lead, Henry Miller, Jr., second, Tidy third, the others as close together as it was possible for them to be in safety, and they went off at a very fair pace. At the quarter-pole, which was passed in 40½ seconds, Tidy was leading three lengths, Andrew second, New Dorp third, Henry Miller, Jr., fourth, T. J. Stevens fifth, Cheston sixth, Arthur seventh, Hampton eighth, Lucy ninth and Maria tenth. Tidy kept the lead, with a gap of four lengths open, to the half-mile pole; Andrew second, New Dorp third, Stevens fourth, Cheston fifth, Henry Miller sixth, Hampton seventh and the others far behind. Time, 1:20. Stevens trotted very fast along the lower stretch, and was at Tidy's wheel at the three-quarter pole, Andrew third, and these three coming on they made an interesting heat of it. Tidy won the heat by half a length, J. Stevens second, a head in front of Andrew; Cheston fourth, Hampton fifth, Henry Miller, Jr., sixth, Arthur seventh, New Dorp eighth, Maria ninth and Lucy distanced. Time of the heat, 2:43¼.

Second Heat.—Tidy was a great favorite. Henry Miller, Jr., was first away, Cheston second, Stevens third, Tidy fourth, the others following. Tidy soon went to the front, followed closely by Stevens, and at the quarter pole she led half a length in forty seconds, Stevens second, six lengths in advance of Arthur, who was a neck in front of Cheston, New Dorp fifth, the others trailing. Tidy was a length ahead at the half-mile pole in 1:20, Stevens second, two lengths ahead of Arthur, who was one length in front of Cheston, the latter six lengths in advance of Andrew, the others out of the race. At the three-quarter pole Tidy led half a length, Chester second, a length in front of Arthur, Stevens fourth. Arthur then came with a rush and won the heat by three lengths, Cheston second, a length ahead of Tidy, who broke up, Stevens fourth, Hampton fifth, Andrew sixth, Maria seventh, Henry Miller eighth, New Dorp distanced. Time, 2:39.

Third Heat.—Arthur was the favorite, Tidy the second choice. Maria had the lead, Miller second, Cheston third, Stevens fourth, Arthur fifth, Tidy sixth, the others close together. At the quarter pole, which was passed in 41 seconds, Cheston was leading, Miller second, Stevens third, Tidy fourth, Arthur fifth, Hampton sixth, Maria seventh, Andrew eighth. Cheston showed the way along the backstretch and was two lengths in front at the half-mile pole in 1:19½, Tidy second, Stevens third, Arthur fourth, the others trailing hopelessly behind. Tidy and Cheston made a beautiful race along the lower stretch, and the roan mare showed her head in front at the three-quarter pole. They came into the homestretch side and side, but at the drawgate Tidy left her feet and Cheston came on and won the heat by a length, Tidy four lengths in front of Andrew, Stevens fifth, Maria sixth, Henry Miller seventh, Hampton eighth. Time, 2:40¼.

Fourth Heat.—Arthur was the favorite over the field. T. J. Stevens was first away, Maria second, Andrew third, Tidy fourth, Cheston fifth, Arthur sixth, Henry Miller, Jr., seventh and Hampton eighth. At the quarter pole, which was passed in 38¾ seconds, Tidy had her head in front of Cheston, Stevens third, Arthur fourth, Andrew fifth, Maria sixth, Hampton seventh and Miller eighth. Going to the half-mile pole Cheston led a neck, Tidy second, Maria third, Arthur fourth, Hampton fifth, Andrew sixth, Stevens seventh and Miller eighth. Time, 1:17¼. Going along the lower stretch Arthur came with a rush, and at the three-quarter pole was on even terms with Cheston and Tidy. Arthur soon took the lead, and, coming on steadily, won the heat by a length, Cheston second, but he was put last for something which was not made public. Andrew was given second place, Hampton third, Tidy fourth, Maria fifth, Miller, Jr., sixth; Stevens seventh and Cheston eighth. Time of the heat, 2:37¾.

Fifth Heat.—Andrew, T. J. Stevens and Henry Miller, Jr., were then allowed to be withdrawn. There was little betting. Maria took the lead, Tidy second, Arthur third, Cheston fourth, Hampton fifth. At the quarter pole, which was passed in 39 seconds, Arthur was leading four lengths, Tidy second, six lengths ahead of Cheston, who was two lengths in advance of Hampton, Maria bringing up the rear. Arthur was two lengths in front at the half-mile pole in 1:17½. He came on leisurely and won the heat and race by a length, Hampton second, a neck in front of Cheston, Tidy fourth, Maria fifth. Time of the heat, 2:39½. Arthur won the first premium, Tidy the second, Cheston the third.

THE SECOND TROT.

First Heat.—Lady Dahlman had the best of the start, and went away rapidly. Lady Sayres second, Carrie third, Constitution fourth, Vanity Fair fifth. At the quarter pole Lady Dahlman led six lengths, Lady Sayres second, two lengths in front of Carrie, who was about the same distance in advance of Constitution, the latter one length ahead of Vanity Fair. Time, 37½ seconds. There was no change along the backstretch, except that Constitution broke up badly and fell far behind. Dahlman was still six lengths in front as she passed the half mile pole in 1:15¾. At the three-quarter pole Dahlman led eight lengths, Vanity Fair, Lady Sayres and Carrie nearly parallel, Constitution far behind. Dahlman was pulled up on the homestretch and walked over the score, making the heat in 2:34, Vanity Fair second, Lady Sayres third, Carrie fourth, Constitution fifth.

Second Heat.—Dahlman was the favorite over the field. The horses were started a length or more apart, Constitution leading, Lady Sayres second, Dahlman third, Vanity Fair fourth, Carrie fifth. Vanity Fair broke up badly immediately afterwards and fell far in the rear. At the quarter pole, which was passed in 38¼ seconds, Lady Sayres led two lengths, Dahlman second, half a length ahead of Constitution, who made a break just as he passed the pole, Carrie fourth, Vanity Fair far away. Lady Sayres showed the way along the backstretch, and at the half mile pole was three lengths in front of Lady Dahlman, the latter two lengths in advance of Carrie, who was four lengths ahead of Constitution. Time, 1:16¾. Lady Dahlman trotted steadily down the lower stretch, and showed her head in front of Lady Sayres as she reached the three-quarter pole; then trotting steadily, Lady Dahlman came home several lengths ahead; but just as she came to the score she was pulled to a walk, and she crossed the score half a length ahead of Carrie, who was a length in advance of Lady Sayres, Constitution a dozen lengths behind, Vanity Fair just inside the distance flag. Time, 2:34.

Third Heat.—Charley Green was substituted for Wilson behind Carrie. The betting was 4 to 1 on Lady Dahlman. Lady Sayres was in front at the start, Lady Dahlman second, Carrie third, Vanity Fair fourth, Constitution fifth. At the quarter pole Lady Dahlman showed her head in front in 38 seconds, Lady Sayres second on a run, Vanity Fair third, Carrie fourth, Constitution fifth. Lady Dahlman opened a gap of over two lengths to the half-mile pole, which she passed in 1:15¾, Vanity Fair second, one length ahead of Lady Sayres, who was still jumping, Carrie fourth, Constitution several lengths behind. Vanity Fair then closed on Lady Dahlman, and was at her wheel at the three-quarter pole. He overtook the mare as she swung into the homestretch, and soon carrying her to a break, came away and won the heat, Lady Dahlman second, Carrie third, Constitution fourth, Lady Sayres distanced for running. Time of the heat, 2:30¾.

Fourth Heat.—Lady Dahlman was the choice against the field. Constitution had the lead, Carrie second, Dahlman third, Vanity Fair fourth. At the quarter pole Constitution was two lengths in front, Vanity Fair second, two lengths ahead of Carrie, Lady Dahlman fourth. Time, 38¼. Vanity Fair then went to the front and led five lengths at the half-mile pole in 1:16, Constitution second, one length in front of Lady Dahlman, who was four lengths ahead of Carrie. Vanity Fair kept steadily on and won the heat in 2:33¼, Lady Dahlman second, Carrie third, Constitution fourth.

Fifth Heat.—Vanity then became the favorite at 100 to 25. Constitution was in front when the word was given, and led around the turn, Carrie second, Lady Dahlman third, Vanity Fair up badly. At the quarter pole, which was passed in 40 seconds, Carrie was leading two lengths, Constitution second, three lengths ahead of Lady Dahlman, who was five lengths in front of Vanity Fair. Going along the backstretch Carrie opened the gap to four lengths, Lady Dahlman having taken second place, Vanity Fair and Constitution being head and head. They passed the half-mile in this order in 1:19¼, but as they trotted down the lower stretch Vanity Fair closed rapidly on Lady Dahlman, while the latter was shutting up the daylight between herself and Carrie. Swinging into the homestretch the driver of Carrie took the centre of the track, Lady Dahlman on her outside wheel, and Vanity Fair on the wheel of Dahlman. In a short time Carrie broke up, and Lady Dahlman took the lead; but Murphy, having Vanity Fair in close proximity to his wheels, pulled to the right, and forced Vanity Fair close up to the right hand fence. This was deemed a foul by the judges, and for this they distanced Lady Dahlman and gave the heat and race to Vanity Fair. This decision incensed the driver of Lady Dahlman, Johnny Murphy, to such an extent that his temper overpowered him, and he called the judges some queer names. For the compliments passed on them the judges suspended John Murphy for six months. Carrie was awarded the second money, and Constitution the third premium. The following is a

TROTTING AT WHITE PLAINS.

Rosa Sonburg the Winner of the 2:40 Purse, Happy Medium, Jr., the Four-year-old Premium and Nellie Walton the 2:35 Race.

The three trotting events to be decided at White Plains yesterday drew together at the Fair Grounds a very large assemblage, which filled the stands, the field and every point of observation, reminding the management of the successful reunions gone by and cheering them immensely, as the storm of last week had made them quite despondent. The track was in excellent condition, and throughout the entire day admirable order was maintained. First to be called was the purse of $1,000, for horses that never beat 2:40, mile heats, best three in five, in harness. Of seven entries four came for the word, these being H. Casey's roan mare Rosa Sonburg, M. H. Whipple's bay mare Lady White, Thomas M. Pelham's bay gelding J. N. Mansuay and E. P. Ryer's chestnut mare Lady Bonner. Sonburg was the favorite two to one over the field, and won the race in three straight heats, though Lady White, who took second money, contested every inch of the way with her. Lady Bonner secured the third premium, and J. N. Mansuay was credited with the balance.

The second event was a purse of $150, for four-year-olds, mile heats, $75 to the first, $50 to the second and $25 to the third horse. There were four entries and three came to the score—William H. Nelson's bay colt Happy Medium, Jr., Otis Bort's sorrel gelding Bell Ringer and H. Benedict's roan gelding Sir Walter, Jr. Protest was entered against Happy Medium by Mr. William H. Sommers, of Mamaroneck, on the ground that he was not eligible to start because of his age, being over four years old. His driver and owner, Mr. Nelson, upon being questioned by the judges, very strange to say, did not know his exact age, but yet was willing to swear that he was not five years old, and did so by presenting an affidavit which he had taken the precaution to have on hand. The judges then allowed him to start, but Mr. Sommers vows that he will prove what he says or suffer the penalty. Happy Medium won the race in three straight heats, Bell Ringer taking second money and Sir Walter third premium. The flag fell in the face of the latter in the first heat; but, under the rule when a protested horse wins a heat, there being no distance, was allowed to start again.

The last race was the purse of $1,250, for horses that have never beaten 2:35; mile heats, best three in five, in harness. Five entries came to the score, namely:—D. B. Goff's bay mare Lady Woods, A. H. Elliott's brown mare Lady Angie, Ed. Jones' brown gelding Brown Prince, Dun Walton's bay mare Nellie Walton and W. H. Nelson's brown mare Brown Kitty. Nellie Walton won the race in three straight heats, but it was of an interesting character, as Lady Angie fought hard for the post of honor. Brown Kitty finished second in the second heat, but was placed last for running. Lady Angie secured second money, Brown Prince third and Brown Kitty fourth premium.

To-Day's Amusement.

This is the last day of the trotting at the fair grounds, there being two events on the programme, and both well worth witnessing. The first of these is a purse of $1,000 for horses that never beat 2:30, six entries; the second a purse of $500 for horses that never beat 2:50, which has twelve entries.

THE NEW JERSEY STATE FAIR.

Last Day but One of the State Fair—Immense Gathering of People—Military Review by Governor Parker—The Trotting Fair.

In point of numbers present, yesterday was "the biggest day" of the New Jersey State Fair, now, and for several days, holding on the grounds of the State Agricultural Society, at Waverley. Probably not less than 8,000 persons were on the grounds during the afternoon. There was no end, too, to the number of State notables present. There was Governor Parker, Senator Stockton, ex-Congressman and Governor expectant George A. Halsey; Congressman Scudder, of Jersey City; the venerable ex-Chancellor Oliver S. Halstead, General N. N. Halstead, State Senators Jarrard, Hopkins, Potts, Thorn and Smith; John McGregor, Judge Ricord, ex-Mayor Peddie, of Newark; Generals Mott, Plume, Ward, Drake and Walker, the latter from New York; Speaker Hobart, of the New Jersey Assembly; about half the members of the Assembly and a large array of politicians of all parties and of every degree of character and influence. The weather was all that could be desired and the grounds wore a most delightful appearance, the trees and grass looking bright and fresh after the heavy rains of last week.

There was a double attraction provided for spectators yesterday in addition to the regular agricultural show. In the early part of the forenoon there was a very creditable military display—a review of the Second regiment, of Newark, by Governor Parker. The Second turned out unusually strong, and won high encomiums on all sides by its soldierly bearing and advanced state of drill. After the review an impromptu reception was held in and around his tent by President Amos Clarke, Governor Parker, Senator Stockton, ex Congressman Halsey and others. Then came which, while drawing out a few good heats, and especially a fine running race, was as a whole rather poor. Nevertheless the crowd watched the track sport with almost unabated interest from beginning to end.

BEACON PARK.

The Race for Stallions That Never Beat 2:26—Mambrino Gift the Winner.

BOSTON, Sept. 22, 1874.

The race for stallions that never beat 2:26, for a purse of $5,000, offered by the proprietor of Beacon Park, was trotted this afternoon in presence of a large crowd of people. There were originally eleven entries, which closed in June last, but two of the number—Strideaway and Gilbreth Knox—died some time ago. Of the others but four answered the call of the judges, these being Mambrino Gift, Phil Sheridan, Commonwealth and Parkis Abdallah. It was expected Smuggler would start, but, on account of lameness, he was withdrawn, which caused considerable disappointment. In the pools Mambrino Gift was the favorite, bringing $50, Sheridan $26, and the field $10.

In the first heat Sheridan had the pole, with Gift outside, and on getting the word the former led the way around to the head of the stretch, Gift and Commonwealth alternating for second place and breaking two or three times. An exciting finish took place, these three getting into close company on the stretch; but Gift drew away and won the heat by a head, Sheridan second, but was set back to third place for interfering with Commonwealth. Time, 2:26½.

In the second heat Gift was the favorite two to one over the field. He won it without a skip, Sheridan keeping second place until the upper turn was reached, where he was passed by Abdallah, who was a good second. Gift won by a length in 2:25¼, Commonwealth being last.

The third heat decided it, Gift taking the lead from the word and keeping it throughout, Sheridan second, Abdallah third and Commonwealth last. Time, 2:25¾.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22, 1874.

Joe Daniels won the $1,000 running race at Sacramento yesterday, against Nell Flaherty.

Time, 1:45¼—1:47¼—1:47¼.

It is thought that the proposed great $5,000 trotting race between Occident and Sam Purdy will be declared off.

ROWING AT PORTSMOUTH, GA.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 19, 1874.

At the regatta gotten up for the members of the Texas Editorial Association, and which took place in the harbor here yesterday, the entries the Virginia Club, of Portsmouth, with their six-oared gig, the Ripple; the Undines, of Norfolk, with the six-oared gig, the Festa, and the Chesapeakes, with their four-oared shell. The race was over a three mile course, and was won by the Virginias in 18m. 35s.

YACHTING.

The Annual Fall Regatta and Clambake of the Brooklyn Yacht Club.

To-morrow this spirited organization will wind up the yachting season as a club with their annual fall regatta and clambake. Always an interesting occasion, this year's programme is intended to eclipse all previous autumn reunions, and prove the event of the season, so far as real pleasure and downright sociability is concerned. The prizes to be sailed for are a champion pennant for each class—one for schooners, two for sloops and one for open boats, subject to challenge within thirty days, in accordance with a resolution of the club, passed 26th ult.

All yachts will rendezvous at the foot of Court street by nine o'clock sharp; the start to be a flying one, from stake boats anchored in line of the Long Dock. The race will be sailed on time allowance, and the signals will be one gun to prepare and second gun to start. The course to be sailed is from the stake boats as above to and around the Southwest Spit buoy (No. 8½), keeping it on the port hand, thence to and around buoy No. 5, off Sandy Hook, keeping it on the port hand, thence to stake boat in Gravesend Bay, keeping it on port hand in passing. No balloon jibs or balloon topsails will be allowed, and all yachts to be sailed by their ordinary crews and guests. No restriction as to crews of open boats.

It is requested by the Regatta Committee, which comprises Messrs. M. T. Davidson, H. Baragwanath and John A. Braman, that all yachts not participating in the race will anchor to the northward of the home stakeboat, which is off the grounds of Mr. C. Godfrey Guntner, Bath, L. I., whose residence will be opened for the reception of the lady friends of the members engaged on the yachts.

There will, no doubt, be represented in the several classes a large fleet of yachts, among them being the Clio, Meta, Gypsie, Comet, Idler, Dudley, Flying Cloud, Sadie, Emma T., Genia, Kaiser, Kate, Schemer, Qui Vive, Recreation, Undine, White Wing, Linda, Lizzie L. and Selene. With fine weather and a good breeze there will be a merry race to-morrow and plenty of work for all hands.

Upon the return of the racing yachts the clambake will be in readiness. It has been the aim of the Regatta Committee to have this a genuine Rhode Island affair—one of the Narragansett Bay kind—and Mr. Davidson says:—"This will be a success; it will be right;" which opinion is indorsed by Sawyer, making the assurance doubly sure. Members of the club, not yacht owners, are cordially invited to be at the club house, foot of Court street, to participate in the sail; but those who prefer to take the cars to the ground, can leave Fifth avenue and Twenty-seventh street (Greenwood Cemetery) every hour.

The judges of the race will be Messrs. John M. Sawyer, T. A. Myers and Samuel Hall, and the steam yacht Emily has been placed at their disposal for the occasion.

Yachting on Staten Island Sound.

A yacht race for the championship of Staten Island Sound will take place on next Saturday. The start will be from the stakeboat in Newark Bay, past Elizabethport, ten miles down the Sound, around stakeboat and return, making a distance of twenty miles. A silver cup is to be awarded the winner. The following yachts have entered:—Black Yacht, of Sailor's Snug Harbor; the Emma A. and Ripple, of Bergen Point; the William T. Potter and Marion, of Rahway; the Fire Island Yacht, of New York, and the No Name, Francis and Cynthia, of Elizabeth. The rules of the Bayonne Yacht Club will govern the race.

CREEDMOOR.

The Competing Rifle Teams—Practice, Shooting and the Prospects of the International Match.

Glorious weather favored the practice of the Irish and American rifle teams at Creedmoor yesterday, preparatory to the great international contest on Saturday. Few events in the sporting annals of this country have created such universal interest as that which in a day or two will determine whether the heroes of Wimbledon will carry across the Atlantic the palm of superiority as riflemen. Opinion is somewhat divided on the subject. Indeed, there is every reason to believe that the famous Irish team will have no unworthy opponents to contend against, and, as matters now stand, sporting men who thoroughly understood the situation would, in their own characteristic parlance, say it was "an even thing." The American marksmen have not been idle since the challenge was first issued, and there is little use in disguising the fact that the team selected to meet their Irish competitors comprises some of the best rifle shots on this continent. It is idle, therefore, to overrate the skill of the Irish team when drawing comparisons with their competitors on this side of the water, for they have been hard at work since the season opened at Creedmoor. As previously intimated, the match will be an exceedingly close one. To be sure, the fame of the Irish team preceded them, but their American brethren have never had a similar chance to distinguish themselves, and it will be not at all surprising—if the recent records at Creedmoor be any criterion—should the team selected on this side divide the honors with their Irish cousins. Under all the circumstances a splendid exhibition of skill may be looked forward to on Saturday next; and as the affair is one of those noble contests which genuine sportsmen anticipate with both pleasure and pride, the result will be awaited with no little anxiety by the community on both sides of the "big pond."

Practice commenced before noon yesterday, both teams firing from ranges at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards distance, fifteen shots at each. The members of the Irish Rifle Association participating were Messrs. Foster, Secretary; Millner, Wilson, Rigby, Doyle, Kelly, Dr. Hamilton and Captain Walker, while those representing the American team were General Dakin, Colonel Bodine, Lieutenant Colonel Gildersleeve, Lieutenant Fulton, J. T. B. Collins, L. L. Hepburn and G. W. Gale. This was the first occasion on which the Irish riflemen used their own weapons, and it was generally expected they would make a much finer display than on Saturday last, when Remington rifles were placed in their hands for the first time. Although the sun shone forth brilliantly, it was by no means what an experienced marksman would call a good day for rifle shooting, especially at long range, for, apart from the shifting character of the wind, a strange mirage played havoc with the targets, owing to the heat which prevailed, so that the shooting of either team could scarcely be regarded as a fair criterion of their respective skill. Despite this the shooting was good on both sides. But to set aside all doubts on the subject, it may, perhaps, be as well to state that the American team made the highest score. At the long range the Irish riflemen displayed much more accuracy than at shorter distances; but as it was only a day of practice comment at this stage is hardly necessary. A large attendance witnessed the exhibition yesterday, including many prominent officers of the National Guard; but noticeable among the throng might be observed a parcel of that ubiquitous fraternity known as "betting men," who, happily ignorant of the somewhat slight difference between a fifteen-inch gun and a sporting rifle, were looking around to see how things were. To them a "bull's eye" has an agricultural significance, and caring little for national reputation, they are simply on the lookout for what they call a chance to make an honest penny. The result of their observations yesterday must have been as clear to them as a Newfoundland fog. Indeed, any opinion hazarded on the result is worthless. After a pleasant and profitable practice the party returned to the city by the evening train.

To-morrow the two teams will again resume practice at Creedmoor, and on Saturday next the great international contest will be decided.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

The Chicagos and Athletics.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 22, 1874.

In a game of base ball between the Chicagos and Athletics to-day the Athletics made 11 base hits and the Chicagos 8; fielding errors, Athletics 11, Chicagos 6; runs earned, Athletics 1. The Chicagos won the game through the bad fielding of the Athletics in the second inning. The following is the score:—

Clubs.	1st.	2d.	3d.	4th.	5th.	6th.	7th.	8th.	9th.
Athletic	0	1	0	0	1	0	4	0	0—6

Professionals and Amateurs.

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 22, 1874.

At base ball here to-day the Atlantics, professional, defeated the Easton club, amateurs, by a score of 6 to 5.

The Coming Amateur Picked Ten Match.

The grand match between picked tens from this city and Brooklyn will not be played to-day as was announced. The Brooklyn clubs held a meeting in the rooms of the Nameless Club last evening and selected the players to represent them. They are Rogers, of the Nassaus, pitcher; Redmane, of the same club, catcher; Dodge and Fleet, of the Chelseas, first and second bases; Dover, of the Reliance, third base; Brasher and Valentine, of the Nameless, short stop and left field; Pike and Wilson, of the Concords, centre and right fields; Clare, of the Amity, right short, and A. Hodes, of the Reliance, substitute.

This is, without doubt, as strong a team as Brooklyn can put in the field, possessing as it does a change pitcher, Wilson, and a change catcher, Clare. For obvious reasons the game cannot be played before the middle of next week, but when it is contested look out for one of the best games ever seen in this vicinity. Mr. Carpenter was deputized by the Brooklyn players to confer with the New York party in regard to a day for the match, which will be played on the Union Grounds. It is understood that the New Yorkers will hold a meeting this evening in the rooms of the Arlington Club for the purpose of settling up everything in relation to their players.

The New York ten are as follows:—Fallon and Ledwith, of the Keystones, pitch and catch; Crane, of the Silver Stars, first base; Loughlin and Geer, of the Flyaways, second base and short stop; Nichols and Hayes, of the Arlingtons, third base and left field; Gilmore, of the Chathams, centre field; Reilly, of the Olympic, right field, and Cunningham, of the Olympic, right short.

The Mutuals beat the Bostons at Boston yesterday by a score of 9 to 8.

A game was played at Hartford, Conn., yesterday, between the Philadelphias and Hartfords, in which the former were victorious, the score standing 6 to 2.

STEMMING INTEMPERANCE.

National Convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America in Chicago.

The Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America is to hold its fourth annual convention at Chicago on Wednesday, October 7. The societies of this city and vicinity are electing their delegates to attend. The Metropolitan Union, comprising fifty societies, sends three delegates at large to represent New York State. The Union of the diocese of Brooklyn, twenty societies, has also elected delegates. The Board of Government of the New Jersey Union held a meeting last evening at the Bishop's house in Newark, the President, Vicar General Doane, in the chair, and elected the Rev. Patrick Cody, pastor of St. James' church, Newark, to head the New Jersey delegation. Besides delegates at large for each States the several parish societies are entitled to special delegates. The Union of America comprises 500 societies, with a membership of 100,000.

A meeting of the delegates elect in this section will be held to-morrow evening, at the residence of the metropolitan president in this city, to decide on the route and time of starting. The New York, New Jersey and New England delegates will, probably, leave in a body from this city.

THE ACTION IN CHICAGO

by the societies under the approbation of the clergy has been looked for with interest by the unions of the Eastern States. The Illinois State Convention and the Chicago societies have both appointed committees to make arrangements. An elaborate programme has just been completed and the ceremonies will be very impressive.

Yesterday the general secretary in this city received a despatch from the Chicago Committee as follows:—

The Chicago societies, with the approval of the clergy tender the Union of America the use of the hall of the Grand Pacific Hotel for the Convention. All arrangements are made; if accepted answer and notify the societies.

A telegraphic reply was sent accepting the offer. The Grand Pacific is one of the celebrated buildings of Chicago. The hall will seat 600 delegates. It is to be superbly decorated for the occasion.

THE NUMBER OF DELEGATES

will be large, as there are many States and provinces represented in the Union. The first convention was held at Baltimore in 1872, the second at Cleveland in October of the same year, the third at Irving hall in this city last October, at which 250 delegates and some forty priests attended.

THE ARCHBISHOPS AND BISHOPS of the country have written emphatic letters of indorsement and encouragement of this movement. The Secretary has already received letters of this kind from Archbishops Bayley, of Baltimore; Purcell, of Cincinnati; Perche, of New Orleans; Lynch, of Toronto, and from Bishops Williams, of Boston; Becker, of Wilmington; Corrigan, of Newark; Dwenger, of Fort Wayne; Henin, of Milwaukee, and other prelates.

Archbishop Purcell takes a very decided position in behalf of total abstinence. Though very far advanced in years the Archbishop says he practises total abstinence himself, for example's sake; that he has done so for eleven years, and that he is still able to do his "hard day's work in the vineyard" without any inconvenience on account of his teetotalism.

THE NATIONAL OFFICERS

the present year are:—Very Rev. Patrick Byrne, Trenton, N. J., President; Very Rev. John Ireland, St. Paul, Minn., and Rev. J. F. X. Michaud, St. John, N. B., Vice Presidents; James W. O'Brien, New York, Secretary, and Thomas B. McCormack, Providence, R. I., Treasurer. The Convention will lastp robably three days. During the seven months since January, 1874, the membership has increased at the rate of 3,000 per month.

FATAL RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Coroner Woltman was yesterday requested to hold an inquest upon John D. Lewis, a wealthy real estate agent, lately residing at No. 603 Hudson street, who died at St. Luke's Hospital on Monday night, from injuries received that evening through being thrown out of his wagon in Central Park. It appears that while Mr. Lewis and another gentleman, named Koch, were driving on the east side drive, opposite Sixty-fifth street, the horse suddenly took fright and ran into another wagon driven by Mr. P. Waterson, of Jersey City. Mr. Lewis was thrown out of his wagon with great violence, and when picked up he was unconscious. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, but never rallied and died about eight o'clock.

Mr. Lewis was formerly an extensive dry goods merchant, doing business in Chambers street.

THE POLICE BOARD.

Police Matters—Estimates for the Year—Two More Sleepy Sergeants Caught Snoring.

The Board of Police Commissioners met yesterday afternoon and transacted a large amount of routine business. Estimates for the expenses of the department during the coming year were decided on and ordered to be sent to the Comptroller. The sums required, according to the present calculations of the Board, will be for the police, $3,489,270, and for street cleaning, $1,033,081.

Complaints were made yesterday in the Central Office by Inspector Speight against Sergeant Rob and another Sergeant of the Eleventh precinct, for being in bed asleep when they should have been on duty. Rob was rolled in an old shawl, and apparently retired under pleasant condition, for in his mouth rested the stumpy remnant of an exquisite cigar.

The trials next week will be interesting, for the Commissioners declare dismissals will be the order of the day.

CAPTURE OF OLD OFFENDERS.

George Walton, alias Smithy, George Wallace and Benjamin Newiter escaped from the Goshen Jail on the 14th inst., and were arrested last evening in a low dive in Bleecker street by Detective Mitchell, of the Fourteenth precinct. Walton and Wallace are charged with having broken into a sleeping car on the Erie road, at Turner's station, and stolen $20,000. At the time of their escape they were awaiting trial.

LARCENY FROM THE PERSON.

John Kennedy, aged thirty-one, residing at No. 68 Oliver street, was arrested last night on a charge of larceny from the person preferred by Frederick Zimmerman, of No. 975 First avenue. The complainant alleges that while attending a picnic at Hamilton Park yesterday afternoon his watch and chain, valued at $30, were stolen from his pocket, and that he afterwards found the property in the possession of Kennedy. The prisoner was locked up in the Nineteenth precinct station house to await examination.

DEATH, PHYSICAL AND MORAL.

Science and Scripture.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

In your issue of Sunday last, in your able editorial on "Science or Scripture," you say:—

The issue is not made between science and the various church systems, or the varied interpretations put upon the Scriptures. It is made directly against the Scriptures themselves. Therefore we are thus confronted with the startling alternative—Scripture or Science, which?

Very true; and just here is the error committed on the part of science. You also say, and no doubt with equal truth—"We have had the pain of reading attacks upon their recent theories which were evidently made by persons not qualified either by scientific or theological information to deal with the subject at all." But I am somewhat surprised that you should narrow down the difference between the scientists and theologians (where I fully agree with you there ought to be no difference at all) to the point—"The truth is, there is no reconciliation between the Mosaic record and the hypothesis of modern geology." A large number of theological students are of the opinion that no difference whatever exists between real science and theology per se. They are of the opinion that all the "facts" eliminated by science are confirmatory of their theological ideas. What is the Mosaic record to which you specially refer as the insoluble difference between the two? The record is a pure allegory, an allegorical account of the beginning. This "beginning" was supposed by all the theologians of the old school to be truly dated by Moses (through inspiration, of course) at exactly 4,004—four thousand and four years before the birth of Christ—and in the old copies of the Bible you will find those figures in the margin of the very first verse of Genesis. But, as I said before, the whole account is allegorical. Webster says:—"Allegory—A description of one thing under the image of another; a figurative discourse in which the principal subject is described by another subject resembling it in its properties and circumstances." The principal subject is thus kept out of view, and we are left to collect the intentions of the writer by the resemblance of the secondary to the principal subject. I think that all theologians, in the light of geology, now conclude that the 4004 is an improper prefix, and, as I before observed, many theologians regard the whole account as allegorical. Thus, divest ourselves of the idea, as in the allegory, of an actual "tree;" of the "fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden;" of the serpent "saith unto the woman," &c., &c., and entertain the matter as it really is—as an allegory—and we immediately begin to unravel the metaphor and witness the elucidation of the great boon of a free will which was conferred on man and the knowledge imparted to him of good and evil.

Some of these "persons not qualified * * by * * theological information to deal with the subject at all" have led you into error in the construction of the passage from Paul, that "sin entered into the world, and death by sin," from which you evolve the idea that Scripture indoctrinates the view that physical death was not in the world until man committed an act of disobedience, thus conflicting with science in its views "of a reign of death, as the geologist tells us, took place in the pre-human eras."

The death there spoken of by Paul was not physical death at all. I think that, upon reflection, weighing Scripture with Scripture, it will be admitted that there are at least two definitions given in Scripture as applicable to death—the one moral death, or that demoralization which befals the commission of sin, and which I would denominate "the wages of sin" (Rom. vi., 23), and that physical death, or the separation of the spirit from the body at the termination of our present state of earthly existence.

In Genesis, where, in the allegory before referred to, it is written, "And the Lord commanded the man, saying, of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat, but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil thou shalt not eat, for in the day thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die."—Gen. xi., 16, 17. Man suffered a moral death and was ashamed for sinning. That he did not suffer a physical death on the day that he eat of the tree of knowledge of good and evil is apparent to all, for he remained on the earth a living soul many years thereafter. Physical death was inherent in man from the creation until now, for the best and wisest purposes, as can be clearly shown.

KINGS COUNTY ALMSHOUSE INVESTIGATION.

Report of the Special Committee of the Board of Supervisors—Charity Commissioners Bennett, Midas and Raber Censured.

The Board of Supervisors of Kings county met yesterday at their chamber in the Court House, Brooklyn. Supervisor Richardson, chairman of the committee appointed to investigate the alleged abuses at the county buildings at Flatbush, presented a report in part, concerning the illegal appointment of John A. Murtha as clerk. The following is the substance of the report:—

TO THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF KINGS COUNTY:—

Your committee, appointed to investigate alleged abuses at the Insane Asylum, Almshouse and Hospital, report in part:—That the Board of Commissioners of Charities have attempted to evade the provisions and restrictions of sections 1, 2 and 3 of chapter 114 of the laws of 1874, by the appointment of John A. Murtha, under the designation of a clerk, to the performance, with but slight variation of the duties formerly discharged by him as assistant storekeeper, and which, in the opinion of your committee, are now by law taken entirely from the control of the said Commissioners and placed under the sole charge of the Board of Supervisors. For the proper discharge of the duties connected in any manner with the purchase, receiving and delivery of supplies, and all the duties necessarily incident thereto, this Board is alone responsible, and in the opinion of your committee should at once and peremptorily repel any interference on the part of any outside subordinate or insubordinate authority. The committee referred to the law on the subject and quoted sections 1, 2 and 3, of chapter 114, laws of 1874, which bear more directly on the matter. The committee continue:—

It will be seen from the foregoing that all duties and responsibilities relating to the purchase, reception, delivery and accounting for goods and supplies of every kind devolve exclusively on the Board of Supervisors and the storekeeper, appointed and qualified according to law. It needs no argument to show the impropriety, as well as the illegality, after exacting bonds in large amount from a storekeeper for the faithful care of goods in his charge, of allowing any person or power outside of the Board of Supervisors to interfere with him in any manner, and, least of all, to allow the very Board who receive goods from him upon their own orders, to appoint any person to meddle with his accounts, to interfere in any manner with the reception, delivery or charge of any goods or supplies. The committee, after defining the duties of John A. Murtha, reported that having fully stated the case for the purpose of exposing its illegality, extravagance and interference with the duties of the Board as defined by law, recommended the adoption of resolutions disapproving of the action of the Commissioners of Charities in the appointment of John A. Murtha to his present position as unnecessary, extravagant and in violation of the express provisions of the law, and also disapproving the conduct of Commissioners Bennett, Midas and Raber, in refusing to rescind their action, after full knowledge of the expressed wishes of the Board on the subject, and that John A. Murtha has no valid claim against the county by reason of his present appointment, and directing the storekeeper not to recognize him as having any authority.

Supervisor Richardson made a long speech in support of the report, after which it was unanimously adopted.

OUR FOREIGN GUESTS.

The joint committee of the Common Council, having in charge the tender of a suitable reception to His Honor the Lord Mayor of Dublin and associates, held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of General Pinckney, Clerk of the Common Council, Alderman O. P. C. Billings, the Chairman, presiding.

A sub-committee, consisting of Alderman Koch and Assistant Alderman Healy, reported that they had chartered the steamboat Wyoming, on which the guests will be taken around the city, via the East and Hudson rivers.

The committee likewise has made arrangements with Delmonico, who will supply the luncheon. A band of music has also been engaged for the occasion.

Among the prominent personages invited to participate in the festivities are the Mayors of New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Hoboken, Yonkers, Poughkeepsie and Long Island City; Major General W. S. Hancock, United States Army, commanding Department of the East; Major General Rufus Ingalls, United States Army, Assistant Quartermaster General; Rear Admiral Gordon, A. T. Stewart, Peter Cooper, &c.

A formal reception will be tendered the foreign guests on Friday afternoon, between two and four o'clock, in the Governor's Room.

The excursion boat will leave foot of Thirty-fourth street, North River, at ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

KILLED BY A HORSE CAR.

Coroner Kessler held an inquest yesterday in the case of J. A. Loeb, aged thirty-seven years, who was run over and killed on the 13th inst., at Fifty-sixth street, by car No. 157 of the Third avenue line. From the testimony of several witnesses it appears that the unfortunate man ran directly in front of the car and was knocked down by the horses and crushed by the wheels of the car. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death, and exonerated the driver and railroad company from all blame. The deceased, who was laboring under mental aberration, had lately arrived from Chicago.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Increasing Activity on the Stock Exchange.

A "BULL" MARKET.

Gold Steady, 109 1-2 a 109 5-8—Foreign Exchange Firm—Money Easy.

SALES TO-DAY 200,000 SHARES.

WALL STREET, TUESDAY, Sept. 22—6 P. M.

As we pass through the anniversary period of the disastrous panic of last year, and attention is more clearly drawn to its causes and consequences, the confidence, which has been of such slow growth, seems to strengthen with each day's contrast of then and now. We have had occasion to note this feeling in commercial circles as underlying a reviving fall trade; but later events have demonstrated it more completely, until at last it may be fairly said to have reached expression in on the Stock Exchange. How long this may continue of course cannot be determined, nor is it material now to consider it, the present fact being sufficient to call attention to, that in the absence of any clique movement, or independent of any great leader, the recuperative forces of the country have silently wrought the conviction in men's minds that the securities now being dealt in on the Stock Exchange were selling below their value and offered the opportunity of profit to those who would purchase them at their present prices. This, divested of the elaborate argument with which rumor assigns to each stock some particular reason for its advance to-day, is the explanation of yesterday's and to-day's bull market. Whether it will continue to-morrow, for the balance of the week, or month, it is impossible to state, or whether some sceptical bear of sufficient resources may, by a daring raid, frighten, in any of these periods mentioned, weak holders into sacrificing that which they now so eagerly buy, is matter for the future to elucidate. It has been so before, and it may be again; but yet the one fact with which we have now to deal remains, that the temper of speculation on the Stock Exchange to-day was decidedly "bullish," reflecting in this an improved tone and feeling of increasing confidence in all the departments of trade.

THE STOCK MARKET

opened strong and buoyant and continued active at advancing figures, with but a slight reaction just before noon, from which it quickly recovered, registering an advance of ¼ to 5¾ per cent. The latter figure was made in Harlem, which rose on sales of 3,400 shares from 125¼ to 131. New York Central, Lake Shore and Western Union were also strong. C., C. and I. C. advanced from 11⅞ to 13 in sympathy with a firmer feeling in respect to the first mortgage bonds of that road, which sold this afternoon at 72½ upon the accepted belief that the guarantee of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as to the payment of interest on such bonds will be upheld should there be occasion. At the second call the market was still firm, but later there was a reaction of ¼ to ⅜ per cent from the highest figures of the day. Harlem in this interval sold at 129½. Toward the close there was less activity and prices continued to recede, the decline from the best figures of the day reaching ¼ to 1¼ per cent, but in the final dealings the strong undertone of the market reasserted itself, and the closing prices showed a partial recovery. The total sales of the day were over 200,000 shares, Lake Shore, Union Pacific, Northwest, Western Union, Erie and Ohio and Mississippi being those most largely dealt in in the order named. The subjoined table gives the sales in each stock and also opened at 109½ and closed at 109⅝, these being respectively the highest and lowest figures of the day. From 1 to 2 per cent was paid to have gold carried and 1 and 2 per cent for its use. Loans were also made flat. The customs receipts to-day amounted to $570,000. The Assistant Treasurer paid out $35,000 on interest account and $52,000 in redemption of five-twenty bonds.

continued to work with the same ease at 2 to 3 on call and 5 to 6 per cent for prime short date paper and 6½ to 7½ per cent for prime long date. There is as yet but little demand from the West for currency to move the crops, the present policy of the farmers in holding back not calling for much more than the Western banks in an otherwise dull season are able to supply. Notwithstanding the notice of the suspension of redemption $185,000 national bank notes were received at the Treasury to-day. The total amount received to date is $27,250,000. The internal revenue receipts to-day amounted to $120,000. Washington advices state that the Treasury will shortly make a call on the New York, Philadelphia and Boston banks for $1,500,000 on account of their notes redeemed.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

continues strong in the absence of any considerable number of commercial bills offering on the basis of 4.84½ for prime bankers' sixty day sterling, and 4.87 for sight, with sales at 4.83¾, 4.82 and 4.86½. Continental was firm, Reichsmarks 94¾ and 95⅝. Cables, 96. Prime Paris, 5.16⅞ and 5.14⅜. The Bank of England gained £10,000 bullion on balance to-day. Advices from Liverpool quote breadstuffs dull, with a decline of 2d. in wheat and an advance of 3d. in corn.

OUR EXPORTS.

The total exports of produce from this port for the week ending to-day amounted to $4,354,724, mixed values, a decrease from last week of $237,807. The exports for the corresponding week of last year were $6,501,318, and for 1872, $5,283,128. The total exports since January 1, this year, are $212,710,745, against $208,673,287 last year and $161,786,682 in 1872. These figures, and those given above, contain an instructive lesson for the Western farmers, which it would be wise for them to apply immediately.

THE FOREIGN MARKETS

for American securities were dull and at the close weak, in sympathy with a decline in consols. The market at 5:15, London, left off:—Consols for money, 92¾; do. for account, 92½; five-twenty bonds, 1865, old, 108½; do. do., 1867, 109½; ten-forty bonds, 104¼ a 104½; new fives, 104¼ a 104½; Erie, 34¾. At 5:30 P. M. the following quotations were made:—United States ten-forty bonds, 104¾; Erie Railway shares, 34¼ a 34½; do. preferred, 53½.

Paris despatches quote rentes at 63 francs, 25 centimes. Frankfort prices at 5:30 P. M. were as follows:—Ten-forty bonds, 99¾; five-twenty bonds of 1864, 100⅞; new fives, 99⅞; old, 1865, 102⅛; new, 1865, 102¾.

GOVERNMENTS

were quiet throughout the day but generally firm, closing steady at the following figures:—United States currency sixes, 117 a 117¼; do. sixes, 1881, registered, 116⅞ a 117; do. do., do., coupons, 117½ a 118; do. five-twenties, 1862, registered, 112¼ a 112¾; do. do., do., coupons, 112½ a 112¾; do. do., 1864, registered, 113¾ a 114¼; do. do., do., coupons, 114⅞ a 115¼; do. do., 1865, registered, 114¾ a 115; do. do., do., coupons, 115⅝ a 116¼; do. do., do., new, registered, 114¾ a 115¼; do. do., do., coupons, 115¾ a 115⅝; do. do., 1867, registered, 115⅞ a 116½; do. do., do., coupons, 116⅞ a 117; do. do., 1868, registered, 116 a 116½; do., do., do., coupons, 116¾ a 117; do. ten-forties, registered, 110½ a 110¾; do. do., coupons, 111⅜ a 111⅝; do., fives, 1881, registered, 111⅞ a 112; do. do., do., coupons, 111¾ a 112.

There was a continued active demand for

as will be seen by a reference to the official list of sales given below; the inquiry, as usual, running largely upon the Pacific issues. The market was strong up to the close, and in the afternoon dealings, as in the case of C., C. and I. C. first mortgage, showed an improvement upon the prices of the morning. Central Pacific bonds closed at 91 a 92, and Union Pacifics at 88½ a 88⅝ for firsts, 88⅜ a 88⅝ for land grants and 76⅛ a 76¼ for sinking funds. Western Pacifics closed at 83 a 83½. In the only dealings, as will be seen below, were in Missouri and Tennessee sixes.

STATE BONDS

BANK SHARES

were generally quiet and uncalled for; 1,221 was bid for Chemical, but none was offered. The only sale was of Union.

THE COURTS.

Judge Woodruff will sit in the United States Circuit Court to-day for the transaction of business in the matter of appointing supervisors of election.

In the Surrogate's Court yesterday, when the Taylor will case was about to be disposed of by a final order for the distribution of the legacies, a writ was served on the Surrogate prohibiting him from taking any further action in the case until argument should be heard, or an order to show cause why the writ should not be made permanent. The writ was served on behalf of Mrs. Howland, one of the legatees, who thinks she did not get a fair share of the property. It is made returnable on the first Monday of October. The writ was granted by Judge Donohue.

THE DOCTORED BOND.

The examination in the case of Colonel James P. Wood, charged with negotiating a loan on a doctored bond, was begun yesterday before United States Commissioner Osborn. It will be recollected that a man named Agilius Naultner was first arrested in connection with this matter. After an examination before the Commissioner, Naultner was discharged on the ground that no guilty intent had been proved. It appeared in evidence during the examination that defendant had procured the bond from Colonel Wood, formerly chief of the government Secret Service Bureau. At the conclusion of the case, Colonel Wood was ordered into custody by Commissioner Osborn, but allowed to go on his own recognizance pending a decision of his case.

The examination was commenced at eleven o'clock yesterday. David J. Malloy was the first witness examined. He testified that he was a real estate broker at No. 202 Broadway; he first became acquainted with Naultner by means of a letter of introduction from a Mr. John Hull, of Lafayette, Ind.; about a week after the receipt of the letter, on the morning of Saturday, September 12, Naultner came to him and spoke about obtaining a loan of $600 or $700 on collateral, namely, the $1,000 bond; witness said he would try to secure the loan for him; then Naultner said, even if the loan were obtained, he would want the bond back, that he required it in a case in which he and Colonel Wood were interested; witness then presented the bond to a Mr. Miller, one of the firm of George L. King & Co., and informed him that Mr. Naultner, the owner of the bond, wished to procure a loan on it; he understood that Naultner had a large lot of property, and that he was a responsible man; Mr. Miller then took the bond in his hand and looked at it, and ascertained from reference to a commercial register that Naultner was worth from $25,000 to $30,000; went to Naultner to get his note, and informed him that the loan could be procured; Naultner and he made out the note, the former signing it; again Naultner remarked that he wanted to get the bond back, as he and Wood wanted to use it; that it had been to Washington, and he found that it was all right; Wood had nothing to do with the transaction; witness never saw him.

Albert A. Miller, banker, No. 74 Broadway, of the firm of T. W. King & Co., stated that on Saturday, 12th inst., between twelve and one o'clock, he received the bond in the regular course of his business, from the last witness, as a collateral note; loaned $700 on the bond in the shape of a check to A. Naultner. The witness here gave similar testimony to that published in the case against Naultner.

Charles H. Patterson, Deputy Assistant Treasurer, was also examined and testified as to the validity of the bond itself, but stated that it was not negotiable, the payee's name being erased.

Detective Sampson also gave similar testimony to that given on the former trial.

Assistant District Attorney Post then proposed to introduce as testimony the voluntary statement of Colonel Wood, published over his own signature, and also a paper of Deputy Marshal Smith, containing admissions from the defendant, but this was objected to by ex-United States District Attorney Courtney, and the case went over until half-past ten o'clock to-day.

MARINE COURT—PART 1.

Fighting for the Costs.

Before Judge Gross.

Schuyler et al. vs. Mirick.—The plaintiffs, wholesale grocers, were in the habit of supplying sirups and other articles to the firm of Hartshorne & Co., brewers, the goods being delivered to carts bearing that name. The last three bills of goods—for the price of which this suit is brought—it seems, were ordered in the same name and delivered to the same carts; but, after frequent application for payment, the answer being given that Hartshorne & Co. were out, suit was commenced, judgment obtained and an officer put in charge of the place, the name of Hartshorne & Co. being over the door. The defendant at this point set himself up as the owner of the establishment, claiming to have bought it at a time previous to the purchase of these goods, and offering to pay the bill for them; but this the plaintiffs refused, unless he would also pay the costs of the suit—consequently this action. On this trial the whole matter was contested, defendant claiming to have had no knowledge of these particular goods, but acknowledging the receipt of goods from time to time turned in by the former owners of the brewery. The Court refused to allow the jury to consider the question of the costs in the action against Hartshorne & Co., and a verdict was returned in favor of the plaintiffs for the value of the articles, $176, with interest.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Felonious Assault.

Before Judge Sutherland.

The trial of Francisco St. Sebastian, an Italian, charged with stabbing Joseph Valino, in Crosby street, on the 30th of August, commenced on Monday, resulted in his conviction yesterday of an assault with intent to do bodily harm. His Honor sentenced the prisoner to the State Prison for five years, as a warning to that class of our Italian citizens represented by the parties in this case.

Larcenies.

Thomas Hicks, who on the 14th of June stole a pocketbook containing $53 from the person of John Kennedy, pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny. He was sent to the State Prison for two years and six months.

Harry Hanson, alias Harry Forrest, was tried and found guilty of grand larceny. The complainant, Mary Smith, a resident of Philadelphia, and who, from the language she used in the witness chair, had evidently seen better days, told a pitiful story of how Hanson robbed her on the 2d of this month of a gold watch worth $100, a gift from her mother. It seems that she had been staying at a house kept by the prisoner's wife in Canal street, and that after receiving a remittance of $50 from Philadelphia she redeemed her watch, which, together with the balance of the money, was stolen by the accused. Judge Sutherland sentenced Hanson to the State Prison for three years.

John Robinson pleaded guilty to petit larceny, the charge being that on the 7th of August he stole thirty gross of pearl buttons, the property of H. B. Claflin & Co. The punishment inflicted was six months' imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

Acquittals.

Catharine Christopher, a Water street girl, was tried and acquitted of a charge of stealing $29 from John Powers, who was in her company on the 7th of this month.

Charles Williams, who was indicted for attempting to commit a burglary upon the premises of Thomas Gibbons, No. 239 Ninth avenue, on the 29th of August, was tried and found not guilty, the evidence failing to sustain the allegation.

JEFFERSON MARKET POLICE COURT.

The Assault on Officer McKenzie.

Before Judge Murray.

John C. Mooney, who was arrested on Monday night by Officer Terwilliger, of the Eighth precinct, charged with a felonious assault on Officer Charles H. McKenzie, of the mounted squad, was arraigned at the above court yesterday. Officer McKenzie testified that on the night of the 18th of July he arrested Mooney in 107th street for an attempt at burglary. On conducting him through St. Nicholas avenue he was attacked by two of Mooney's associates, who endeavored to effect a rescue, and after a hard struggle, in which Mooney took part, he (Mooney) succeeded in escaping. On this occasion Officer McKenzie was severely beaten, and is yet suffering from some of the wounds received. Judge Murray fully committed Mooney to answer at General Sessions.

Burglary in Seventh Avenue.

On Sunday night last the grocery store of James Marrich, of No. 371 Seventh avenue, was entered by means of the fanlight, and a chest of tea and other articles were taken therefrom. Officer Reid, of the Twenty-ninth precinct, arrested Michael Davis at his residence, No. 247 West Thirty-first street, and found the stolen tea stored away in his rooms. A man named William Edwards, who stated at the station house that he had no home, delivered himself up to the authorities as a participator in the burglary. Davis and Edwards were held by Judge Murray in $1,000 bail each to answer.

ESSEX MARKET POLICE COURT.

In Trouble Again.

(Before Judge Otterbourg.)

John Purcell was arraigned before Judge Otterbourg yesterday charged with a felonious assault on Henrietta Maxwell, of No. 107 Ridge street. It was charged by the complainant that she was struck some eight times by Purcell with some sharp instrument, and knocked down and kicked about the head and stomach. Henrietta presented a most pitiable appearance yesterday as did also the defendant, who had suffered somewhat at the hands of the police in his desperate attempt to avoid being arrested. Purcell, otherwise known by the soubriquet of "Bottles," was convicted in 1870 for killing a man named Kiernan, and sentenced to death. He obtained a new trial, and was brought in guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, for which he was sent to State Prison for two years, and it is only a few months since he has regained his liberty.

BROOKLYN COURTS.

UNITED STATES COURT.

Decision as to the Rights of Married Women.

By Judge Benedict.

In the case of Mrs. Hattie A. Gallagher, wife of Rev. Dr. Gallagher, against the steamboat State of New York, Judge Benedict filed his decision yesterday. The suit was brought to recover the value of certain wearing apparel abstracted while travelling from New York to Essex, Conn., on the steamboat State of New York. The right of a married woman to maintain such an action was the basis of the defence. Judge Benedict holds that a married woman may legally bring such an action.

CITY COURT.

Decisions.

By Judge Neilson.

Wilson Crosby vs. Francis Morris.—Plaintiff in this case sues the defendant as a stockholder of the New York, Utica and Ogdensburg Railroad Company, under the statute making stockholders liable for the debts of railroad companies to the extent of their unpaid stock. He alleges an indebtedness incurred by the company to him as Division Engineer at Ilion, N. Y., for services performed by him during the months of November and December, 1871, and January, 1872. In addition he seeks to recover the salaries of eight assistants for the same period, whom, he claims, he was authorized to employ and from whom he holds assignments. The total amount sued for is $1,546. The defence is that Mr. Morris had sold his stock and ceased to have any interest in the road before the rendering of the services alleged.

Anna P. Wade vs. Martin Kalbfleisch.—This action for breach of promise of marriage against the late Mayor of Brooklyn was suspended after its commencement upon the death of the defendant. Application was subsequently made by the plaintiff, under the statute, for leave to continue the action against his executors. That application was denied by Judge Neilson in an opinion holding that the right of action was extinguished by death. Appeal was taken from the decision, and, as appears by telegram from the Clerk of the Court of Appeals yesterday, that Court has sustained the ruling of Judge Neilson.

A NEW OCEAN STEAMER.

The Latest Addition to the State Line of Steamships.

The new steamship State of Indiana, Captain J. W. Sadler, the latest addition to the State line, was thrown open for inspection yesterday. She is in every way equal to any steamship in the Atlantic service. She was launched in the latter part of August from the yard of Thomas Wingate, of Glasgow, in a completely finished condition, and made her first passage very successfully. The State of Indiana is 330 feet in length, 36 feet beam and 28 feet deep. She will accommodate 80 first cabin, 30 second cabin and 500 steerage passengers. The latter are furnished with berths. The grand saloon is finished in inlaid panelling of maple and walnut. The ceiling is in white and gold, and in the centre is a circular opening through which comes the necessary light. There are four long and two semi-circular tables in the cabin. The upholstery is all of the softest Magenta colored velvet. There is a piano and a library in the after end of the cabin, while the forward side is occupied by a buffet of elaborate design. The neat little cabin, set apart exclusively for the ladies, is forward of the main saloon, nearest the centre of the ship, and is handsomely upholstered in navy blue velvet. The crowning glory of the ship, however, is the ladies' sitting room, directly over the saloon. It is oval in shape, probably 40 by 20 feet, and is entered from doors right at the head of the companion way. It is lighted by fourteen windows, and is richly finished in blue and gold, with navy blue cushions and curtains. The floor is of flowered tiles. The smoking room is aft of the top companion way and has every comfort. The ship is supplied with electric bells in every stateroom. The engines are of the compressed surface condenser pattern, of 2,000 horse power. The cylinders are fifty-one and eighty-four inches in diameter and the stroke forty-eight inches. They were built by Wingate. The officers are Captain J. W. Sadler, First Officer Thomson, Second Officer Ramsey, Purser Thomas Tonge, Surgeon Springel and Chief Engineer McWilliams.

TRIPLE SHEET.

New York, Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1874.

From our reports this morning the probabilities are that the weather to-day will be partly cloudy and clear.

WALL STREET YESTERDAY.—Stocks were active and higher, closing firm. Gold was steady at 109¼ a 109⅝.

THE GERMAN PRESS IN BERLIN defends the act of the expulsion of the Danes from Schleswig on the grounds that it was a legal measure, and was only adopted in a few isolated cases. Can they can make the people in Copenhagen believe this?

CAPTAIN GENERAL CONCHA has been fired at by an assassin. The Spaniards attempt to conceal the fact. Better seek to arrest the felon.

MEXICO has just been troubled with a military revolt in one of the provinces. The mutineers were under the lead of a civil judge. Jurisprudence must be at a discount in Mexico, but politics appear to be quite lively, as usual.

THE CUBANS AND SPANIARDS have commenced to fight in parties of three and four. The engagements as reported to the press leave the suspicion that the contributors to contemporaneous history in Cuba are strongly prejudiced against the brave men in the Manigua.

THE NEWCASTLE COMMERCIAL MEN don't approve of the idea of Canadian reciprocity. Newcastle has been always a little selfish. Can the people of Nova Scotia derange the coal market, particularly in the matter of the storage of the naval supply?

THE RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT has made an important concession to the Mennonites. Members of the sect are to be exempt from actual military service, but will be required to do duty as hospital surgeons and nurses. This is an imperial invitation to the Mennonites to remain at home. They had commenced to practise the Irish plan of cure.

COURTS OF ARBITRATION.—In the effort to relieve themselves from the cumbersome modes of redress provided in the law courts the merchants of the city have obtained the creation of a new court of arbitration, with the object of settling matters in dispute within a reasonable time. The idea is an excellent one, and will, no doubt, have a healthy influence on the commerce of the city, by creating confidence and enabling all matters in dispute among the merchants to be disposed of without delay.

OUR CREDIT.—When people wonder why our credit is dead in foreign lands, let them remember that three hundred and fifty millions of railway bonds are in default. In other words, we have borrowed this vast sum of money to improve the country and we do not pay the interest. This is a shameful fact—one of the dark omens of the policy of repudiation which threatens our future. We should so amend our laws that a fact like this would be impossible. What better question could be discussed in a national convention?

BRIGHAM YOUNG, the Mormon President, High Priest and Prophet, is reported ill, and some uneasiness is felt among the saints of Salt Lake in regard to his condition. He is getting old, and in the natural order of things he must soon "go the way of all the earth;" but his loss at this time would almost certainly prove disastrous to Mormondom. Hence this uneasiness in reference to his condition means much more than the ordinary interest of a people in the health of a favorite ruler. For the sake of peace in Utah we hope that his life may still be spared.

The Situation in Europe—Shadows of Coming Events.

There is a constant rumbling in the Continent of Europe, and even the wisest men cannot read the signs. Hawthorne said in one of his publications about England that he always felt in that country the sensation that, according to scientific laws, is said to presage an earthquake. But Hawthorne was a curious, deep observer, apt to see the true England in St. Giles and Bethnal Green, rather than in Westminster and Belgravia. He may have reasoned as those reason who build houses or monuments. The builder rests his edifice upon the strength of the majority or the larger portion. A nation is great, intact, free, only when the foundations rest upon prosperity and contentment. Class rises above class, even as layer rises above layer and forms the pyramid. The summit will be uncertain if we are not certain about the foundation. And looking at those splendid monuments of civilization as we see them in Europe, we are tempted to ask what security have we for their permanence and their strength if there these tokens of disaster assume real form and have their ultimate and terrible will.

Peaceful as Europe seems it is not a wholesome peace. We cannot accept the summer day as truly summer when clouds, rent and torn with lightning, disturb the sky. We may have the harvest moon or we may have the thunder storm when the sun goes down. "Question" after "question" comes tumbling one upon another, even as we read in the poet that "from peak to peak, the rattling crags among, leaps the live thunder." Never did old Europe seem in so phenomenal a condition. England gathers her skirts about her and, content with the guardianship of her embosoming seas, sulkily awaits the storm. France sharpens her sabre and pike, watching and praying for the tocsin to summon the combat for Alsace and Lorraine. Austria, bothered with her finance and her artillery, her history a series of monumental defects, prays that the shock may not fall until her currency is really money and she has changed her cannon from bronze to steel. Russia, half civilized, half barbarian, looks with civilized earnestness upon the Slavic dominions bordering her kingdom and with barbaric passion upon the ungarnered possessions of Asia. Spain is beaten from shore to shore, at the mercy of every tempest. The smaller nations, rejoicing in the weakness which has at last become strength, huddle into the corners away from the storm, only hoping for the safety that comes with forgetfulness. Turkey feels that her doom is a question of time and patiently awaits her execution. Germany pursues her destiny with eager, brutal resolution. Between Germany and France the issue lies. We can learn one side of this issue from the remarkable letter addressed to the Peace Conference of Geneva by Victor Hugo. According to the cable summary which first reached us M. Hugo declared that there could be no peace in Europe until there had been another war between France and Germany, conveying the intimation, also, that the illustrious and venerable writer rather welcomed such a war. We are not apt to be startled at any demonstration from Victor Hugo, knowing the extravagance of his rhetoric and his disposition to treat all questions in a thunder-and-lightning fashion. But we respected his transcendent genius, and, knowing his views as regards peace, would have regarded a warlike letter from him as springing from an aberration of mind.

Victor Hugo's genius, when it addresses itself to politics, has a lightning quality. It gives instant, lurid glimpses of the valleys and depths, enabling us to know what is spoken and thought and done by the large body of socialists and democrats who live, as it were, in the under world of European civilization. M. Hugo, not a strange thing in an old man, takes a despairing view of the present. The military Empire of Napoleon has passed away, and in its stead we have the Gothic Empire of Germany. He sees no peace except after "inexorable combat;" for the present, nothing but silent and sombre hatred. This is because France, having been slapped in the face, "redness mounts to the brow of all peoples." For, according to the exquisite vanity of M. Hugo's rhetoric, France is our mother, the mother of all nations, and whoever insults her wounds mankind. The duel which is impending is not between France and Germany—which nations we are glad to hear are actually "sisters"—but "between two principles, republic and empire." On one side he sees the Germanic Empire and on the other the United States of Europe. And there must be an encounter between these two principles, a terrible duel, profoundly saddening to the philosopher. France, "doubly wounded, in her territory and her honor," cannot sleep, and "at this moment everything tips towards universal gloom." The solution will be the United States of Europe. In the end there will be the triumph of the people, which is liberty, and of God, which is peace. And so we shall all become fellow citizens of universal fatherland.

There can be little doubt, we fear, that in Europe at this moment everything "tips towards universal gloom." Mr. Disraeli, whose rhetoric is of a different quality from that of M. Hugo, more sedate and practical, spoke recently of the "great crisis" about to appear in the world's history, and he explained his course upon certain ecclesiastical questions by saying that when this crisis came he wished to have the Church of England protected against the storm. We do not attempt to fathom the meaning of the English Prime Minister, but we presume he referred to the struggle between liberalism, as represented by Prince Bismarck, and the ultramontanism of the Roman Church. Whether we look upon this struggle from an ecclesiastical point of view, as that of the nineteenth century against the Middle Ages, or from the poetical point of view of M. Hugo, the Gothic Empire against the United States of Europe, the forces on either side are gigantic, and the contest must in time assume proportions that history does not parallel.

It may be that we are coming to the time spoken of in sacred writings and impatiently expected by enthusiastic interpreters of Scripture, when the great battle of Armageddon will be fought and we shall enter upon the millennial period. Some of these commentators tell us that this battle will take place in Roumania, and that somehow it will be connected with the Eastern question. One of the greatest thinkers in America, by some thought to be the greatest, believed that the two races who must govern the world and struggle for the supremacy are the Teutonic and Slavic, and that the other nations are subordinate; that the German people, "not diffusive, but deep wells, dark, cool, mysterious and never failing," are bound to rule Europe; that the Teutonic race, which has produced Bacon, Leibnitz, Newton, Hegel and Shakespeare, must always be the superior race. Napoleon, who had a way of saying oracular things empirically, once remarked that Europe would, in "fifty years," which should be about the present time, be "either republican or Cossack." Those who are fond of speculations upon history will find the Continent an interesting problem. If these great writers and thinkers are prophets also our European friends may well look with anxiety upon each revolving day. But here, in free, happy, and, we fear selfish America, with nothing to trouble us but an occasional row with Louisiana, President Grant's ambition, Mayor Havemeyer's attacks on The O'Kelly, and the daily "statements" that come from disagreeable Brooklyn people, we can look calmly upon the burning volcano, and, listening to the roar of the guns of Armageddon, hope that the millennium has really come, and that we may be all able to take first class balloon passages for the Champs Elysées and the Boulevards, where we may enjoy it at its best.

"Military Protection" and "Military Government."

The Inter-Ocean, of Chicago, the administration organ of the Northwest, says that an "energetic, positive policy on the part of President Grant will save the whole South from scenes of blood and carnage." "What the South needs now, and must have, is military protection, and, if need be, military government." This may be regarded as an expression of the belief of those who feel, with Senator Morton, that the whole trouble comes from the strifes of Southern democrats against Southern republicans. We have no doubt this expresses a part of the situation, but only a small part of it. The movement which overthrew Kellogg's government by a touch, as though it were a child's toy house made of cards, cannot be called a political demonstration. Nor can it be solved by "military protection." The army of the United States, had the revolution in Louisiana proceeded to desperate measures, could not have captured New Orleans without a great loss of life and treasure. New Orleans is a peculiar city, defended on all sides by nature. A well equipped British army, composed of soldiers who had been in arms against Napoleon, and commanded by officers of experience and renown, was driven into the swamp and destroyed by a small army of militiamen. A large portion of the male population of New Orleans are experienced soldiers. They served in the armies of the Confederacy and are perfectly familiar with the duties and hardships of war. We have no available army now under arms and within reach of the President that could have taken New Orleans had it been properly defended by these men and with the peculiar advantages of its natural position. The naval vessels might have shelled the town; but no one knows better than the President that shelling does little harm to a large city. Of course we could have taken New Orleans, just as the Spanish government took Cartagena; but Cartagena was only taken after a long siege, and after a defence that severely tested the resources of Spain.

In addition to the material difficulties attending the capture of a city like New Orleans, we must remember also the moral effect of an armed and living insurrection in a community like that of Louisiana, and surrounded by communities like those in the adjacent Southern States. Such an example would have been a burning, blazing fire, throwing out sparks and tempting a new conflagration. All the old Confederate spirit would have found life, and whatever we may feel about it, now that it is over, however fervently we may condemn "the sin of rebellion" and "treason" and "making war upon the best form of government the world ever saw," it is well to remember the practical fact that it cost four years of war, the loss of hundreds of thousands of lives and the aggregation of an enormous debt to suppress this spirit when it once assumed the actual front of war. We do not say that it would cost as much the second time, but it would cost enough. We are not much better prepared to fight the South, if that is what the Inter-Ocean means, than we were when Fort Sumter fell. We have no army, no navy, no depots of supplies. Time would be necessary to create them. We may calculate how long a regular army would require to suppress a rebellion, say in the mountains of Alabama, when we remember how long the Spanish army has been employed in suppressing a sporadic, inconsequential, nebulous rebellion in the Biscayan mountains. That job has been forty years doing, and according to our cable despatches it is not quite done.

We admit that this is not the high, heroic way to deal with solemn questions. General Logan, who is a ruler in Inter-Ocean parts, had a better plan. "The situation in Louisiana," he telegraphs the President, "is such that in my judgment there can be but one course pursued. That is to promptly reinstate the deposed Governor if the whole army and navy be required to do it." This is, we confess, the heroic tone and it has the merit of being easily adopted, of being popular, of commending itself to the average mind. There is a good deal of the Fourth of July in it, and we know how dear this is to the American heart. We have read of noted military heroes and critics, Barry Lyndon, Captain Jinks, Boabdil, Bombastes Furioso, Captain Costigan, among others, who would heartily applaud Logan's plan and disdain any measures but the severest for "dealing with rebellion." But the point we venture to make, with all humility and submission, is, "Can we not rule the South without the sword?" Grant that an emergency may arise compelling us to move all our available resources in money and men toward the South to-morrow, and no one would question the most extreme activity. But is this necessary? Does the South really need "military protection" and "military government?" Have we exhausted every peaceful remedy? Do we not really fly to the army as an excuse for our own misdoings and shortcomings? Have we not failed in reconstruction as a measure of peace, and do we not wildly seek any possible excuse, even an act of war? We have overthrown Davis and Lee, and in their stead we have built up Moses and Kellogg. The Rhetts, the Masons, the Breckinridges and other "pestiferous rebels" have been properly extinguished; but in their place we have the Warmoths, the Pinchbacks, the Whittemores and the Blodgetts. Are these achievements over which we must glory, which we must "protect" with all the military power of the government? Can we not, as enlightened citizens of a free republic, find a way to reconstruct the South and secure peace to its people without imitating the sternness of the Czar with the Poles or the cruelty of the English government in India?

The Utica Convention and the Third Term.

There is too much reason to fear that the Republican State Convention will let slip an opportunity of rendering a useful service to the party. The third term discussion would be extinguished and public apprehension quieted if the republicans of the great State of New York would join those of the great State of Pennsylvania in pronouncing against the third election of a President. There can be no doubt that the widespread belief that General Grant desires a third term injures the republican party. As he has not thought fit, after so great a lapse of time, to relieve the party by a disavowal, it is time for it to take the subject into its own hands and set the question at rest. The republicans of Pennsylvania and Iowa have already declared their sentiments, and if those of New York would add their voice it would be apparent to President Grant himself that his hopes of a third term are visionary. No man can be elected with the two largest States against him, and all the third term efforts and intrigues would suddenly collapse if the Convention at Utica should proclaim its hostility. If the public suspicion is unjust to the President, and he has really no such intention, he could not take such a resolution unkindly, since it could thwart no purpose of his. But if he does aspire to another election it is an imperative party necessity, an act of self-preservation, to cause it to be understood by the country that the republican party will not tolerate this ambitious pretension. We suppose the only objection to such a resolution is the seeming discourtesy of imputing to the President a wish which, after all, he may not entertain. If the question were new there would be force in this objection. But it has occupied public attention for more than a year, and for the last three months it has been the most prominent topic of political discussion. The President's stubborn silence, when a dozen words might have cleared him and his party, has deepened suspicion into belief among multitudes of his countrymen. After allowing him ample time for disavowal, the party would give him no reason to complain if it should do in its own interest what he has so suspiciously neglected. The republicans are already too heavily handicapped without this additional weight.

If the Utica Convention should agreeably disappoint the public by declaring against the third term, it would naturally select some courteous and delicate form of expression. But it would be more manly, more consistent with republican simplicity and directness to follow the example of Iowa rather than that of Pennsylvania. Why should the people forbear to express themselves with freedom on any public question? The easiest way for the Convention to sweeten the pill, if they fear it would be taken as a pill, would be to put in one part of their platform a strong resolution approving General Grant's conduct as President and indorsing his administration, and in another part a resolution expressing their respect for the inviolable precedents set by Washington and Jefferson. For obvious reasons the Pennsylvania method of dissent cannot be adopted in this State. Governor Dix, unlike Governor Hartranft, is a candidate in this election, and it is quite enough for the Convention to ask the people to recognize his fitness for one office. Besides, a preference expressed for Governor Dix would probably be taken as serious, whereas the naming of Hartranft in Pennsylvania could only be regarded as a transparent veil for another meaning. The nomination was redeemed from burlesque only by its evident purpose and the dignity of Hartranft's official position. But Dix has such personal fitness for the Presidency that a repetition of the Harrisburg tactics at Utica would be liable to be misunderstood, and the same remark would apply if a like compliment were paid to Senator Conkling.

There is, however, another method which the Convention might adopt, equal to the Harrisburg device in courtesy and not exposed like it to the imputation of paying an insincere compliment to a man who is used as a mere vehicle for conveying a distasteful intimation to the President. The wisest thing the Utica Convention could do would be to recommend an immediate amendment of the constitution, limiting the President to a single term of six years. This might be done with perfect sincerity both toward General Grant and toward the public. It would not only commit the New York republicans against a third term without offering a personal affront, but it would be a good way of starting an important reform of the federal constitution. It is a change which has been favored by many of our most distinguished statesmen for two generations. President Jackson earnestly recommended it in every one of his eight annual messages. Henry Clay zealously advocated it in speeches and letters after Jackson's retirement from the Presidency. The third term excitement would render such an amendment popular in the North and secure its ratification by the Northern Legislatures if Congress should propose it. The Southern States would be certain to ratify it, as they did a similar provision in the Confederate constitution. If the republicans would take time by the forelock and carry such an amendment through Congress and submit it to the States next winter they would thereby do one of the most popular, timely and successful things ever undertaken by a political party. If the Utica Convention would inaugurate the movement it would be a step so far in advance of the "no third term" negation of the rival platforms as to make this question a vote-winning issue for the republicans.

The Charges Against the Commissioners of Charities and Correction.

The charges against the Commissioners of Charities and Correction are now being investigated by the Grand Jury, and as the secrecy usually attending such inquiries seems to be removed we are furnished daily with the names of witnesses and the bearing of the evidence they have given. We find that Mr. Howe, the Commissioner of Accounts, who in his official examination of the department discovered fraud and illegality in its management, was summoned before the Grand Jury and swore to the truthfulness and correctness of his report; that General Bowen, the Commissioner of Charities and Correction who refused to sign the reply of his associates to Mr. Howe's exposition, has been a witness, and that the Mayor's son, who sells tea to the department, and the Mayor's son-in-law, who supplies the butter, have been examined. We are also informed that Commissioners Laimbeer and Stern, who stand officially charged with malfeasance in office, with wilful violations of law, with attempts to cover up and conceal their offences by means of altered invoices and false entries in the books of the department, and with allowing the city to be defrauded by exorbitant charges, have applied for permission to give their testimony on their own behalf. We have no means of knowing how accurate these statements are in detail; but, as they are given with much particularity and are not denied, we accept the main points as correct.

The duty of the Grand Jury in this matter appears to be very simple, and it is not surprising that the extended examination they are making should be looked upon with some degree of suspicion. Six months ago the HERALD commenced the exposure of the corruptions of the Department of Charities and Correction, and compelled first a partial investigation by a former grand jury, and next the movement of the Board of Aldermen which led to the official examination made by the Commissioners of Accounts. We showed the character of the transactions in dry goods between Commissioner Stern and his relative, Louis Sternbach, by which the city was made to pay about thirty-three per cent more than the market price for the articles purchased of the latter person. These transactions were presented by a grand jury as irregular, and tending directly to corruption; but the facts that the dry goods in question had been purchased in violation of law, and that the entries and invoices had been fraudulently altered for the purpose of concealing the offence, were not then known; hence no indictment was found. The present Grand Jury have before them proof that the dry goods, flour and other supplies used by the department have been purchased by Commissioners Stern and Laimbeer in amounts prohibited by the charter; that false bills have been rendered and false entries made in the books of the department, with the object of concealing the violations of the law. They have evidence that the prices paid for dry goods to Sternbach by the city were excessive, and that Sternbach, purporting to buy for the California trade, received the goods on the sidewalk only to cart them off to the department, making out his own bills to the city for the same articles at increased prices. In one case they have the proof that Sternbach's original invoice to the city for a single purchase of over two thousand dollars, made on July 31, was afterward replaced by three false bills dated July 30, July 31, and August 1, and that the original entry of the transaction was subsequently erased and a false entry made to correspond with the altered bills. If the Grand Jury desire evidence in regard to the flour purchases they will be able to discover that samples of the flour have been examined by competent persons and pronounced to be worth from two to three dollars less than the price paid by the Commissioners. With these facts before them it is clearly the duty of the Grand Jury to indict the Commissioners, for the violations of law are clearly established, while the damage to the public interest is self-evident. The defence of the accused Commissioners, if they have any to make, should be offered in a court of justice and not in a grand jury room.

There is reason to believe, however, that the corruption of the department under investigation reaches deeper than the present disclosures indicate. The population under the charge of the Commissioners is represented as nearly ten thousand. It is asserted that this is a gross misstatement, and that the census, honestly taken, will not show a population of more than eight thousand at the outside. This number will include infants, children under ten years of age, invalids in hospital and others who cannot consume full rations, as well as the employés of the department, who are not supposed to be supported at the city's expense in addition to their salaries. Yet the consumption of beef and flour in the department is sufficient to feed an army of twelve thousand men on full rations. In the face of these charges it cannot be believed that an honest grand jury will fail to find an indictment against the accused Commissioners.

THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS is a little too fast in claiming votes for William Dorsheimer on the ground that he is "of foreign parentage." His father, the late Philip Dorsheimer, was not a foreigner, but a Pennsylvania German, who emigrated from that State to Buffalo in early life. There is a large immigrant German population in Buffalo, but all the social relations of the Dorsheimer family have always been with the native part of the people. The German citizens of Buffalo would laugh at the idea that William Dorsheimer is their representative. He is simply the representative of the liberal republicans on the democratic State ticket. He is a gentleman of literary culture and fastidious social pride, and the Senate would have the handsomest and most dignified presiding officer since Luther Bradish if he should be elected.

BISMARCK'S IDEA FOR THE INCORPORATION OF DENMARK in the German Bund is very displeasing to the Russian Czar. The French press says so. The wish may be merely father to the thought in Paris, but the statement is not altogether improbable. Russia would not feel easy with the knowledge of the fact that the Germans held the key of the Baltic. The Germans are likely to make an attempt to gain possession. Thus France may obtain a chance, for the European democracies would become excited by the collision.

OLD AND NEW PILOTS.—The Richmond Enquirer begs us to understand that in repudiating Mr. Hunter, Governor Wise and the leaders of the secession movement as "pilots" who ran the South "upon the shoals" and wrecked it in 1861, it does not mean to reflect upon the justice of the cause. Its quarrel is with "the imbecility" and "inefficiency" of the leaders, not with the cause, which it still esteems "as holy as ever commanded a warrior's sword or a patriot's prayer." We have too much respect for the liberty of conscience to criticise any Southern man who feels that he took part in the rebellion as in a religious war; but at the same time we do not think it is fair to attribute the "shoals" and the "wrecks" of 1861 to the leaders. In that movement the people were the pilots. Leaders like Hunter and Davis and the rest merely held on to the wheel while the vessel dashed over the rapids, and did what they could to steer it out when the sea arose. We would much rather trust those men than the new leaders, who have no memory of the war but its anger and passion and who rise to power by constant appeals to the past. R. M. T. Hunter is to-day more worthy of respect and attention than any public man in Virginia, and we shall believe in the reality of reconstruction when such men return at the head of their States to the counsels of the Union.

THE NEW JERSEY CANVASS.—Matters bid fair to be lively over in New Jersey. The Jersey City Herald, which is a fighting newspaper, comes to us with a double-leaded editorial in which the editor nominates himself as a candidate for the State Senate on the democratic ticket. We have read this article curiously, as we can think of few phases of literature more interesting than the article of an editor criticising his own claims to office. Mr. McDermott, who writes with a Cobbett's command of English, is "opposed to the political gas-bag and the political juggler, whose principles are money and whose professions are inflated by the rustling of our currency." We do not much believe in editors taking office, but if this editor really means to enter into a campaign against all the "political gas-bags and jugglers" in New Jersey he has undertaken a canvass only equalled by that of Don Quixote against the windmills of La Mancha.

STATE AND COUNTY FAIRS.—With September we have the return of the season of State and county fairs. There was a prevailing apprehension that the drought would seriously affect these popular and useful agricultural festivals this year; but the late general and generous equinoctial rains, in replenishing exhausted wells, springs and streams, in giving new life to the lately blighted pasture fields and in settling the dust on the highways and fair grounds, have dissipated all fears of failures in State or county fairs. It appears, too, that, notwithstanding the great area of the country which has suffered from this late severe drought, the general products of cereals, fruits and roots this year, though materially diminished, are still good in quantity and quality. So much for our abundant and general spring and early summer rains. Otherwise our unexampled dry season from July to September and from the Atlantic seaboard to the Great Plains would have resulted in unprecedentedly short crops and in general distress throughout the country.

Has Calixto Garcia Been Captured?—Facts by an Insurgent Sympathizer—Attempt to Assassinate the Captain General.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22, 1874.

A letter from Havana under date of September 15 says:—

The graphic account by Captain Ariza of the battle of Yareyabo, in which General Calixto Garcia was taken prisoner and thirty-six insurgents were killed, without a single casualty to the Spaniards, seems to be purely an emanation of the fertile brain of the Spanish Captain. Letters from Santiago de Cuba and Manzanillo state that a truce of ten days had been agreed upon between the Spanish commander of the district, General Marin, and General Calixto Garcia for the adjustment of certain questions, and Garcia and his officers appointed a place for the conference. The place of meeting becoming known to some Spanish officers, among them Captain Ariza—the latter being unable to resist the prospect of promotion—obtained permission from his superior officer to take 100 men and attempt the capture of Garcia, in which he succeeded. General Garcia's mother resides here, and calling upon Captain General Concha she obtained permission to telegraph to President Serrano, asking him to spare her son's life.

ESCAPE OF "BIG FRANK."

The Noted Robber Again at Large—Details of the Affair.

NEW CASTLE, Del., Sept. 22, 1874.

The recent prediction of the noted bank robber, Frank McDonald, known as "Big Frank," that he would soon emerge from the jail in this city, where he was incarcerated, was fulfilled by his escape about one o'clock this morning. The only is said to have been Night Warden Levi Wilson, who had charge of the prison at the time. He states that he had gone down to the far end of the corrider to the weavers' room to ascertain the cause of sounds he heard proceeding from that direction of the prison. Turning to retrace his steps he looked up and saw Frank running along the corridor at the other end. He immediately started in pursuit, and at him, but the noted criminal succeeded in reaching the street, and making good his escape. It is believed that confederates were in waiting for him, and that he was immediately taken to a place of safety.

WITNESS OF THE ESCAPE

AMUSEMENTS.

Lyceum Theatre—"La Princesse de Trebizonde."

This charming opera, probably one of the most enjoyable of the prolific Offenbach's works, has entered upon a career of success at the Lyceum fully equal to that which attended the production of "La Grande Duchesse" and "Genevieve de Brabant." The sparkling nature of the play itself, leaving the music out of the question, with such admirable interpreters as Mlles. Aimee, Minelly, Gandon and Kid, and MM. Debouchet, Duplan and Debeer, is quite an attraction. When around it are woven some of the most seductive strains of the Franco-German composer, lyric champagne, as it were, it can be readily understood why "La Princesse" should have become such a sterling favorite. The house was crowded last night, and although the cast has not been changed since the first representation, the efforts of the artists have succeeded in introducing new features of interest, particularly in the scintillating dialogue and dashing music, and encores were more numerous than may be generally found on the opéra bouffe boards. "La Fille de Madame Angot" is in active preparation, but in view of the success of the new Offenbachian opera there is little likelihood of a change for many nights to come.

Central Park Garden—Thomas' Farewell.

Theodore Thomas and his orchestra took a final leave of Central Park Garden last night, the programme being entirely devoted to Wagner. The hall and garden were so crowded that it was a difficult matter for late comers even to gain admittance. It was a deserving tribute of the metropolitan public to one who has done so much in the cause of true art. The conductor was cheered and applauded at the conclusion as only a popular favorite might expect, and his band played with more than ordinary spirit and effect.

An idea of the work of Mr. Theodore Thomas during the summer season, at Central Park Garden, may be seen from the following list of classical works performed:—Overtures, 74; symphonies, suites, &c., 46; entr' actes, fantasias, ballets and selections from operas, 64; marches, 20 (the leading works). As for waltzes, &c., their number is legion. The composers were Auber, Adam, Arnold, Beethoven, Berlioz, Bennett, Buck, Bruch, Bach, Bülow, Bargiel, Brahms, Burgmüller, Bilse, Cherubini, Draeseke, David, Erkel, Flotow, Franz, Florio, Gade, Gounod, Glinka, Goldmark, Graedener, Greiner, Gungl, Haydn, Hérold, Horsley, Horneman, Hofman, Hamerick, Hiller, Kreutzer, Linder, Liszt, Lumbye, Lux, Mozart, Meyerbeer, Mendelssohn, Macfarren, Massaret, Mühldorfer, Metzdorf, Michaelis, Nicolai, Piefke, Pease, Raff, Reinecke, Rheinberger, Rossini, Riemenschneider, Schubert, Schumann, Spontini, Sullivan, Spohr, Svendsen, Stoer, Stiehl, Saint Saens, Singer, Svedermann, Strauss, Thomas, Verdi, Vieuxtemps, Voigt, Wagner, Wallace, Weber, Zellner. Immediately after the close of the summer season Mr. Thomas will leave New York for the Western cities. He commences a series of concerts in Chicago on Monday, September 28. The concert company which Mr. Thomas has organized for the winter season is composed of his grand orchestra, which consists of nine first violins, Mr. S. E. Jacobsohn, principal; eight second violins, Mr. Herman Grupe, principal; five violas, Mr. Charles Battens, principal; five violoncellos, Mr. Charles Hemmann, principal; four double basses, Mr. Charles Uthoff, principal; one harp, Mr. Lockwood; one bass clarionet, one piccolo, two bassoons; two flutes, Mr. Wehner, principal; four French horns, Mr. Schmitz, principal; two oboes, Mr. Eller, principal; three cornets, Mr. Dargel, principal; one corno Anglais; three trombones, Mr. Cappe, principal; two clarionets, one tuba, kettle drums, side drum, bass drum, &c.

Miss Emma Cranch, a young American prima donna from Cincinnati, will be the vocal soloist at Mr. Thomas' concerts. The Western tour of Mr. Thomas and his company will be very brief, owing to his numerous engagements in the East. He returns to New York October 26, and gives his first symphony concert on Saturday, November 7. A new feature of these concerts will be the public rehearsals. One full public rehearsal will be given two days in advance of the concert. No doubt this arrangement will be received with pleasure by students of music and by persons who are prevented from attending the evening concerts. The fact that he gives also a regular series of symphony concerts in Boston, Philadelphia, New Haven and other cities, show how firm a foothold he has taken in these cities, and how rapidly a taste for the best class of music has been developed by the frequent visits of this orchestra. It is in America alone, thanks to Mr. Thomas, that concerts on so large a scale and with such choice programmes can be heard in almost every city, while in Europe only the largest capital cities are favored with similar entertainments.

The Lord Mayor of Dublin and some of the gentlemen of the Irish team will be present at Booth's to night on special invitation.

"The School for Scandal" has made such a hit at the Fifth Avenue Theatre that the production of the new American comedy has been indefinitely postponed.

THE UTICA CONVENTION.

Exciting Struggle for the Second Place on the Ticket.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE INTRIGUERS.

Robinson and Batcheller the Only Remaining Candidates in the Field.

Renomination of the Entire Old Ticket Foreshadowed.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 22, 1874.

There is a tremendous crowd in the city, and judging from the gatherings at the hotels and the groups that are to be met with on the corner of every street in the neighborhood of the hotels, every county in the State besides its regular delegates must have sent a dozen or so of her political wire pullers to see that their representatives do not go astray and that everything is done properly for the interest of the party. Nearly all the republican Senators are here and fully three-fifths of the republicans of the lower House. Indeed, anybody familiar with the crowds that haunt the hotels at Albany during winter would be led to believe, at first, that the Convention on Wednesday is to be really the assembling of the Legislature itself. In fact, many of the Senators and Assemblymen are delegates, and a large number of those who are not are ex-Senators and ex-members of the Assembly. Every indication now gives promise that the Convention will be a harmonious one. There has been all day and the arrival of the country delegates, each delegation without having any fixed purpose of its own, seeming only anxious to learn how each other stood, has but added to the general hubbub and confusion. The fact is, everybody seemed to be at sea, or, to put it more plainly, afraid to declare themselves one way or the other. The majority of the country small fry, who will only do the voting and have but little to do or say about the preliminary management of things, talked at first somewhat freely as to what they thought was best to be done, so far as the officers other than Dix are concerned, but they will be drawn into the drag net by their leaders when the proper time comes, and in fact whatever direction the leaders see fit to take, their talk amounts to but very little as an indication of what may happen to-morrow. Still this very fact only goes to show that matters will be arranged so that no hitch will occur to-morrow and that the managers know the material they have to deal with. Early this forenoon, when the trains from the West began to arrive in quick succession, it was apparent that the general sentiment of the leading men among them was for the renomination of the old ticket sure, without a scratch; but after dinner a few of them became mysteriously reticent on the subject, and left all the predictions and what-ought-to-be-done business to those who had nothing to lose by speaking right out in meeting. The secret of this was the stand that was taken by Collector Arthur, George Bliss and several others of

THE MOST INTENSE EXCITEMENT,

in favor of pushing the claims of A. B. Cornell for Lieutenant-Governor. A few days ago it was decided by the Custom House men that Cornell would consent to have his name used in connection with the position, and so the heavy pressure that was brought to bear to-day in his favor so suddenly, coupled with the strange absence of Cornell himself, took not a few of even the knowing ones by surprise. At noon nothing was talked about but his chances, and what muddled matters worse was the discovery that a part of the New York delegation refused to go for him. This, in the absence of several of the prominent delegates, such as E. D. Morgan, was not by any means a pleasant situation for Cornell's active advocates, and for a time it looked very much as though he would be pressed no longer. An agreement was finally come to between the disagreeing members that if it became certain, after a thorough canvass and sounding of the delegates, that enough votes could not be secured outside the New York delegation to nominate him, his name would not be mentioned in the Convention as a candidate against Robinson, who would then be given the votes intended for Cornell. All this time General Batcheller's friends were working like beavers to gather all the strength they could to make him formidable in the Convention, and as they made considerable headway—which, of course, did not facilitate the plans of the Custom House people in their search for rural aid and assistance—the situation became all the more complex and annoying. It was not until late in the afternoon that a majority of the Northern and Western delegates had arrived, and, not knowing how the outlook was, they at once became the prey of the Custom House managers and their opponents. They too, at least three out of every five, appeared to be in favor of placing but many of them, like those who had put in their appearance before them, became suddenly silent as to what was best to be done, when they learned that there was so much pulling and hauling going on, with no apparent leader in the field, and things generally at fives and sixes. At six o'clock Governor Robinson's friends were confident, Batcheller's hopeful and Cornell's noncommittal as to what strength they really had. It was urged against Robinson that he would not make a suitable Governor in case General Dix was elected Senator. But, on the other hand, his friends contended that it was not certain that Dix would take the Senatorship, even if he could get it for the mere asking, and that he assuredly would not give up the Gubernatorial chair simply to oblige Mr. Cornell, who, failing to secure the Governorship in the usual way, was willing to seize upon it in this indirect manner. Some indiscreet friends of Mr. Cornell apparently weakened his case by the statement that Robinson had charged over $4,000 for mileage more than he was actually entitled to, and actually had the coolness to send for Comptroller Hopkins to come up here and officially confirm the accusation. It turned out during the talk about the matter that the Comptroller and Robinson are not very good friends, and that when the latter sent in his mileage bills Mr. Hopkins referred them to the Attorney General for his opinion as to whether they were not overcharged.

Whether they were strictly legal charges no one seemed to be able to state; but, at all events, Robinson's friends contended that they were not any greater than the charges made by his predecessors. While this way of making war on Robinson drew away some of his rural supporters it was evident that many of the delegates, who were in doubt before, did not like the style of them, and openly declared that they would stand by him, anyhow.

THE GREAT QUESTION,

however, as to whether the old ticket should be renominated in its entirety or not, reduced itself down to simply a battle between the ins and outs. The Canal Commissioner and the State Prison Inspector now in office, backed by their friends, felt that if the ticket was broken the hundred and one candidates for their positions would have good cause to try to oust them, and so they lent all their efforts to have Robinson retained. On the contrary, the friends of the various aspirants did their utmost to have him scratched off and either Cornell or Batcheller put in his place. It will be seen, therefore, that it has been a pull and haul game all day long.

However, it finally became evident to the gentlemen who were anxious to see Cornell succeed that he could not get the strength necessary outside of his own delegation to secure for him what was wanted—not simply a majority, but a handsome majority in the Convention—and thereupon they gave it out that he was not a candidate. Indeed, they even went further, and tried to make everybody believe that he had not been a candidate during the day at all; at any rate, he was no longer talked of as a candidate by nine o'clock, and the field of battle was therefore left open for the friends of Batcheller and the friends of what is now known as the "old ticket party."

THE STRUGGLE FOR BATCHELLER.

That Batcheller's friends worked for him all day and that they are yet working hard for him in dead earnest, and with no ulterior purpose of having him cast aside to-morrow, as some people believe, for a third man, as beyond dispute; but the indications are at this late hour of writing that he over-estimates his strength. It so happens that he comes from the same Congressional district as Barclay, the Canal Commissioner, elected on the old ticket; and many who would, probably, otherwise support him hesitate to do so on this account for the reason that, in their opinion, his nomination would sacrifice Barclay.

The fear which I have already alluded to elsewhere that, to "scratch" Robinson, would break the rest of the ticket and leave the door open for the various patriots who want to get into the shoes of the present incumbents, is the chief reason after all which now deters many from supporting any new comer for the second place on the ticket. Batcheller's friends contend that his nomination would not break the ticket, and that they will support Barclay and Kirkpatrick and see to it that no combination can sacrifice them; but, as at present the "old ticket" party seems to have the best of the struggle, these promises are not regarded as of much account. In fact it is now certain that the New York delegation will throw its solid vote for Robinson in the Convention to-morrow, and that he will be nominated by George Sharpe in order to show the "old ticket" party that they were not inimical to him at any time, even though some of them were anxious to elect another person. It can, therefore, be taken for granted that in renominating Robinson the entire old ticket will be renominated. His friends are confident that he will win, and as Onondaga, Cayuga, Wayne, Otsego, Albany, Erie, Monroe, Orleans, Westchester, Delaware, Tioga, Tompkins and Washington county delegations, with here and there a scattering vote for Batchellor, are known to be for him, there can be but little doubt of the final result. Saratoga, Rensselaer, Schenectady, Fulton, Hamilton, St. Lawrence, Niagara and Putnam delegations are thus far in favor of Batchellor. Between now and to-morrow at ten o'clock many changes may be made, and it is whispered about mysteriously that a combination is being made to defeat Robinson at all hazards. The old ticket people pooh-pooh the idea, and claim that no matter what may be done now the whole ticket will be nominated. The New York delegates are especially confident, and such men as George Van Nort, Sheridan Shook and even George Bliss concede the facts.

THE OFFICERS OF THE CONVENTION.

So much time has been taken up by the delegates in canvassing this Lieutenant Governorship question that but little thought has been given to who will be the officers of the Convention. Mr. Francis, of Troy; ex-Speaker Hawkins and General Woodford are mentioned in connection with the temporary chairmanship, and it is now believed that Mr. Francis, who aspired to the permanent chairmanship, will be selected for the former position. Judge Pierrepont, Theodore M. Pomeroy and Edwin D. Morgan are spoken of in connection with the permanent chairmanship, and it is now pretty certain that Morgan will be the successful man. Very little is said about other than in a general way. Judge Pierrepont, I understand, was entrusted with the delicate task of getting it up, and to-day completed it and submitted it to the gentlemen who are the committee on resolutions. It indorses the administration of General Grant, but what it says, if it says anything, about the third term no one has been able to ascertain with any certainty. When spoken to on the subject the managers refuse to talk about it. Apparently that plank has not yet been settled upon and will not be until the last moment. The delegates who are not office-holders, so far as I have been able to learn during my conversation with them, are dead against a third term. A few of the delegates are office-holders and many have near relatives in paying offices under the government, and it is from them that comes, I learn, the strongest opposition to the Convention expressing itself in any way upon the question.

THE TEMPERANCE PEOPLE, who were to hold a grand convention here to-morrow will hold a sort of meeting only, at which a resolution will be passed condemning Dix for his veto of last year. This was decided upon to-night. It may not be generally known that this convention was part and parcel of the plan which was matured some time ago by the Custom House party to defeat Governor Dix. The prohibition party who nominated Clarke was considered of no account, and it was at the instance, I understand, of the Custom House that the call for the Temperance Convention was made. The sinews of war were to be paid by the Custom House to carry on the campaign. All the temperance men who were to engage in the Convention were representatives of the Sons of Temperance, eastern and western divisions, and of the Good Templars, bodies which, it is said, number at least 50,000 men in the State. It will be seen that a diversion by them against Dix would have been quite a serious matter the day before election had Dix not been so strong with the party as he is to-day. The Custom House had no idea when they first thought of getting him out of the way that their plans would see the light as soon as they did, but when they became generally known the demand in favor of his renomination by the republicans in every county of the State brooked no opposition, and the jobbers had to take a back seat. It was, therefore, quite the thing to-day, when some of the leading temperance men dropped into town, prepared to do as they were expected, for them to be told by the Custom House representatives that the "jig was up" and Dix's renomination was beyond question. The bargain as to could not be carried out. It was not to defeat Dix after his nomination they wanted so much as to prevent his nomination by the tremendous temperance demonstration against him the day before the State Convention was to be held, thereby securing a Custom House man in his place. The great majority of the men who were to have been here as representatives of the Sons of Temperance and Good Templars had the good sense, once they saw how the tide set in for Dix, not to come here at all to-day, and not coming, the few who have come will hold a little meeting to-morrow, as I said before, pass their resolution and go their ways wiser and probably more temperate men than ever.

THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS

now show that the old ticket will be renominated to-morrow beyond a doubt.

SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A Passenger Train and Freight Train Collide—Cars Telescoped—List of the Killed and Wounded.

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 22, 1874.

The afternoon passenger train on the Belvidere and Delaware Railroad left Phillipsburg, N. J., at twenty-five minutes of two for Philadelphia, five minutes late, and collided with an up freight train at Warne's lime kilns, about three miles down the river. The freight train was on a side track, the switch to the same being left open, allowing the passenger train to pass on the side track also, and coming in collision with the freight train. The passenger train was running at regular speed at the time of the collision. The baggage and smoking cars telescoped, and all that were injured were in those two cars.

He was met at Wells River by Hon. Horace Fairbanks, Judge Poland and others, and on his arrival here proceeded to the house of the former. He was escorted to the Fair Grounds at one o'clock, where he was greeted with great enthusiasm by an immense crowd. His address was devoted to the elucidation of the principles of mental, moral and physical development as affecting the different classes of society.

THE KELLY-HAVEMEYER CONFLICT.

Kelly's Defence Not Yet Ready—What the Big Chief Says About It—The Probable Points—An Explanation of Some Charges—That Threatened Arrest—The Syracuse Promise—What Havemeyer's Friends Say.

The statement of John Kelly, in response to the Havemeyer-Waterbury document, is not yet ready and, likely, will not be given to the public before Monday next. A HERALD representative called on Mr. Kelly at his office in Nassau street, yesterday, and conversed with him relative to the charges. The office and its surroundings were crowded with the "unterrified," who wished to buttonhole the new "Boss" and urge their particular claims upon him. The stairs leading to the office had many occupants long before the hour announced for Mr. Kelly's appearance—twelve o'clock. A delegation of workingmen from the Nineteenth ward, headed by W. R. Nichols, not a workingman, was also on hand.

THE COMING STATEMENT—MR. KELLY'S SIDE.

Mr. Kelly expressed his desire that the statement in refutation of Havemeyer's charges should be given to the press as soon as possible. "Delays are dangerous," was the quotation to which his attention was called. The gentleman acknowledged the truth of the maxim, but replied that much work had to be accomplished before the statement could be completed. Books and papers, which had accumulated for six years, had to be closely scrutinized and copies made of certain portions. Figures had to be compared, and much work done with which the general public was not at all familiar. It was rumored around the City Hall yesterday that Mr. Henry L. Clinton had procured orders of arrest in the Supreme Court Chambers, from Judge Donohue against Havermeyer and Waterbury. No authentic confirmation of this rumor could be traced. Mr. Clinton was, no doubt, in court at an early hour yesterday morning, and procured the signature of Judge Donohue to some documents, but their purport did not transpire. Mr. Kelly denied that any such process had as yet been issued. He states that his programme will be to send his statement to the public before he moves upon the enemy's line in a judicial sense.

THAT ALLEGED COSTLY SHAVE OF MURDERERS—AN EXPLANATION.

Among the items of fraudulent bills charged against Mr. Kelly as Sheriff is $49 for shaving Jeremiah O'Brien before his being conducted to the gallows. Of course the Sheriff is not expected to perform the duties of a tonsorial artist himself on those occasions, but is allowed to procure the services of a gentleman brought up in this noble profession. Mr. Kelly's explanation of this rather expensive charge for one shave is set forth in the assertion that this duty extended over a period of several weeks, and that other murderers had received the benefits arising from the shaving operation.

Mr. Kelly's statement itself will be much shorter than the lengthy document promulgated by our Knickerbocker statesman, Mr. Havemeyer. Mr. Kelly alleges that his explanations will entirely disprove the allegations as to fraud. Facts and figures will alone be put forth; generalities and personal utterances left out.

THE ATTACK ON CORONER CROKER.

Mr. Kelly expresses himself very emphatically in condemnation of the attack on Coroner Croker. He says that the whole statement in relation to this official is one tissue of falsehoods. Croker, he alleges, is a very quiet, respectable man, and not of that class of politician so peculiarly described in the letter of Mayor Havemeyer. It is said that Croker intends to commence suit for defamation of character and libel.

UNDER SHERIFF CUMMING was met in the City Hall Park and questioned as to his opinion of the present state of the contest. He remarked that he was willing to take a back seat hereafter if every single item in the bills of ex-Sheriff Kelly were not proved to be perfectly correct.

THAT THREATENED ARREST.

When the HERALD correspondent met Mr. Kelly in Syracuse at the Democratic Convention he stated positively that on his arrival in New York he would have both Waterbury and Havemeyer arrested. The letter of Havemeyer had not then appeared. The charges were not public property. Accusations of robbery and corruption in office had not darkened the arena of political discussion. Rumors there were, to be sure, but nothing defined or particular. The interview between Mr. Kelly and the correspondent took place on the third floor of the Vanderbilt House, in the bedroom, off the sumptuously fitted up parlors occupied by the great Tammany magnate. Kelly took a seat on the side of the bed with the HERALD correspondent beside him. Outside were the couriers and ward philosophers who go to make up the staff of our latest renowned political chieftain. The gas light that blinked so inquiringly in at the Lexington avenue palace on Monday night did not enliven the conversation. Light was cast from the adjacent parlor. Mr. Kelly then and there emphatically informed the correspondent that the day of doom was at hand for Waterbury and Havemeyer. He had telegraphed to his counsel to meet him in New York on Monday morning. At that time he would promulgate his orders for the immediate arrest of the Mayor and his literary satellite, Nelson J. Waterbury.

Now, Mr. Kelly's explanation of the failure to carry out these threats amounted simply to the statement to the HERALD representative yesterday that he was guided entirely by advice of counsel. Whether that advice is sound or not remains to be seen. When a man is slapped in the face, as a general thing he does not wait to consider consequences but strikes back in return. It may, however, alter the case if the striker is a powerful opponent, well equipped for battle.

A keen anxiety to learn all the tactics of the campaign was manifested among politicians and the public yesterday. The more fiery of the Tammany braves feel disappointed at the less vigorous course pursued. They had been electrified by the thought that Havemeyer and Waterbury would be arrested for slander on the return of their chief. The HERALD'S despatch from Syracuse promulgated this information. The policy, if carried out, it is said, would have created an enthusiasm calculated to forward the fortunes of Tammany. Many chafe at the delay in publishing the contradiction. The friends of Havemeyer are exuberant. It was asserted yesterday by many that not only are the supplementary charges much graver, but that the ex-Sheriff knows them to be so, and that this knowledge explains his caution in the opening of his defensive operations. They say he cannot afford to make a false move or take a hasty step; that he knows the uncertain ground on which he treads; that, in fact, the sappers and miners of his enemies have made his path so full of traps and pitfalls that whichever way he moves he is sure in the end to go down.

Thus stood the fight yesterday. Twenty-four hours may bring a material change. It is a time of sensations. Kelly's may be the last and greatest.

The Mayor's Latest.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

The latest act in the burlesque of "political reform" is Mayor Havemeyer's letter addressed to Mr. John Kelly. In reading this extraordinary paper the public should keep in mind the motive which prompted it and the ends its reputed author seeks. Revenge was the inspiration, and rage over the spectacle of his own blasted character was the fit accompaniment of an act which must inevitably cover the old gentleman with further disgrace.

The righteous revolution which took place in this city in 1871 against organized robbers then in power was simply so spontaneous and majestic that party lines were swept away and the cry of "Reform" was shouted by a million people. Seventy gentlemen organized themselves into a committee, and Mr. Havemeyer became their candidate for Mayor. The fact that he headed the reform ticket secured his election. When a younger man he had served the city in the same position without discredit. But his character had two sides. The fair one had been seen, but the other was to be "ended foul in many a scaly fold." At his entrance into office, two years ago, the Committee of Seventy was a power; he killed it "as dead as a door nail" in six months. There was a piebald democrat like himself who had stormed the citadel of his senile affections and carried him off a willing, or at all events a submissive captive. This man became "the power behind the throne, greater than the throne itself." By the ascendant of superior craft Oliver Charlick not only led the Mayor aside from the reform to which he owed his election, but into the crooked and devious ways of what is known in a neighboring State as "addition, division and silence." It may be said that the Mayor has only connived at the street cleaning, the charity and correction and other municipal scandals that have grown up thick and rank around him during his administration. But he has honeycombed many of the avenues of profit with his own relatives and friends, and he has turned a deaf ear to every branch of the government, legislative and municipal, which has exposed those great wrongs and demanded Mr. Havemeyer's interposition to prevent them. By his course he has achieved the unprecedented distinction of being the first Mayor in the history of New York who hasn't a single friend to sustain him, save the creatures of his official bounty, and the first one ever execrated by every political party and every party leader, without a single exception. Democrats and republicans, reformers and anti-reformers, optimists and pessimists, judges and juries, journalists and reviewers, Tammany Hall and the Custom House, Mr. John Kelly and Governor Dix; whatever their differences on other subjects they all proclaim, as with a single voice, that the Mayoralty of William F. Havemeyer is an intolerable offence and an aggravated nuisance to the first city of the Union.

Driven to the wall the old gentleman has resolved to strike out at Mr. John Kelly, whom he regards as his chief assailant; and a silly, chimerical and extravagant charge against Mr. Kelly's honesty is the result. Any other adviser than Mr. Waterbury, a disappointed Tammany Hall politician, would have never allowed the Mayor to make so humiliating a spectacle of himself. But Mr. Waterbury had his own grudges against the Tammany leader. An empty stomach is apt to disgruntle a small conscience and the flesh-pots of Egypt are very dear to politicians of the Waterbury stripe. He is not the first hireling who has been willing to crawl on his belly to get them. What a figure this man cuts. He was District Attorney while Kelly was Sheriff, and it was his duty to prosecute the latter if the frauds alleged were really committed. Waterbury impales Waterbury on either horn of the dilemma.

This communication is not intended as a defence of Mr. Kelly. That gentleman is no doubt quite able to defend himself. The palpable absurdity of many of the charges against him (to say nothing of the motive of the enraged and baffled accuser) impairs the value of everything said. What a sequel to the Mayor's irrational and pernicious rule over this city, and to the devious and questionable career of Mr. Uriah Heep Waterbury, if their outrageous and frantic assault on Mr. Kelly should end in their taking a trip to Blackwell's Island, where they could have time behind the bars to meditate on the instability of human affairs and to enjoy a congenial tête-à-tête with William M. Tweed. CITIZEN.

LOUISIANA.

Peace Restored—No Orders Through the War Department.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22, 1874.

No information whatever from New Orleans has been received by any department of the government up to noon to-day. Private telegrams represent that everything is quiet. No orders have been issued by the President through the War Department this week, as there is nothing to render them necessary.

Resignation of a Judge of the Criminal Court in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22, 1874.

Judge A. A. Atocha, of the Superior Criminal Court, yesterday tendered his resignation to Governor Kellogg. No reason is assigned for this action on his part. Any action by the State authorities against the leaders of the recent revolution would be brought before this Court.

Will Kellogg Resign?

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]

The full text of Governor Kellogg and Governor McEnery's letters, in reply to a despatch of James Gordon Bennett asking if they were willing to resign in order that a new election may be had, is printed on the third page, together with a communication from General McMillen in response to Senator Morton's Indianapolis speech; also General Butler's plan for the peaceful solution of the trouble, which probably foreshadows the action of the administration. Nothing is clearer than that the claimants should vacate their pretentions and enable the people to declare their wishes at the ballot box. Kellogg seems unwilling to resign; but an intimation that it is the sense of the administration that he should do so would probably convince him of the service he can do the country by taking himself out of the way.

THE ALABAMA TROUBLES.

A United States Commissioner on the Alleged Outrages.

MONTGOMERY, Sept. 22, 1874.

W. B. Jones, United States Commissioner at Demopolis, Marengo county, publishes the following:—

Although a true republican and devoted to my party and its success, I cannot consent that my county shall be falsified and slandered. It reflects upon republicans as well as democrats. I have canvassed this county already four times this fall in the interest of the republican party, and justice and truth impel me to declare that I never saw a more peaceful, orderly, law-abiding people, both colored and white. Not a man has been killed nor a single outrage committed on account of political feeling, and free speech and republican opinions can be indulged in anywhere. The best feeling prevails between the colored republicans and the democrats.

Mr. Jones is a republican candidate for Probate Judge in Marengo county, which adjoins Sumter and Greene.

He was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment in the State Prison for burglary, and had only arrived there on the 10th inst. Five days before his arrest he was married. Sheriff Peil, of Bergen county, says he "ruled the jail" there while a prisoner.

STATEN ISLAND.

A club is about to be organized in Stapleton, to be known as the "Old Men's Republican Club," in opposition to the Tyson Liberal Republican Club, which numbers about thirty members, holds monthly meetings, and is prominent at all the primary meetings.

The new Republican General Committee of Richmond county assembled yesterday at the Union Hotel, in Tompkinsville, for organization. The Tyson (liberal) delegates met first and organized, ruling out one of the oldest members, with his delegation—Mr. James Guyon, of the Tenth district, of the town of Southfield. The adherents of Mr. Guyon assembled and organized in the same room, choosing Mr. William H. Corbett as permanent Chairman, William H. Winegar as Secretary and Richard Cunliff as Vice Chairman. Subsequently a vote was taken and it was decided that Mr. Guyon had been unjustly ruled out.

THE COURT OF ARBITRATION.

Opening of a New Court—The Chamber of Commerce Avoiding the Law's Delay.

In a few days there will be in operation in this city a new court, which will be a very important aid in the settlement of mercantile disputes. It is the painful experience of merchants that the law's delay obliges them to suffer loss rather than contest or enforce a claim, the investigation of the merits of which may not be commenced for some two years after the cause is entered in the court. This is notably the case in the Court of Common Pleas, and in the higher courts an equal delay seems inevitable. By chapter 278, Laws of 1874, legal powers were conferred upon the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York for accomplishing the purposes defined in the following section:—

SECTION 2.—Any party or parties having a controversy, dispute or matter of difference upon any mercantile or commercial subject may summon the opposite party or parties to appear before the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York for the settlement of such controversy, dispute or matter of difference, on a day and hour named in such summons, which shall not be less than two or more than five days after the personal service of such summons upon such opposite party, or one of two or more parties jointly interested in the subject matter of the controversy; provided all the parties are regularly elected members of said Chamber of Commerce; and parties, whether members of such chamber or not, to any controversy, dispute or matter of difference arising or within the port of New York, or relating to a subject matter situate or coming within said port, as the Collection district of said port is established and limited by act of Congress of the United States of America, approved March 2, 1799, may voluntarily appear before and submit the same to the Chamber of Commerce, and such Chamber shall thereupon entertain jurisdiction of such controversy, dispute or matter of difference, and of the parties thereto.

Judge Fancher, late of the Supreme Court, has been appointed by the Governor the arbitrator. The court will be in name and in fact a court of arbitration, for it is provided that—

The respective parties to such matter shall each be entitled, at the time of submitting to such jurisdiction as herein provided, to nominate and appoint in writing one person to sit with the arbitrator to hear and determine the matter; and the award made by them, or the majority of them, shall be deemed and held to be the award therein; and if the said parties refuse or neglect to nominate and appoint each one person, as aforesaid, then they shall be deemed and held to have waived their right to do so, and the matter shall proceed before the arbitrator as sole arbitrator to hear and determine said matter.

It is provided that each case shall be disposed of within five days from the date of hearing. The effect of the award of the arbitrator is defined as follows:—

The award of the arbitrator, or board, as provided for in this act, shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties thereto, and shall be to effect and secure a final settlement of the matter submitted under the provisions of this act for his or their decision and award, and shall be upheld and sustained in all the courts of this State.

The act provides for the formation of short and simple forms and rules for the government of the court and the carrying out of the details of its procedure. These have been drafted and are now in proof, and have been submitted to Judge Fancher for his approval. In a few days these rules will be printed for general circulation, and shortly afterwards the court will be opened.

Already a number of cases are on the books of the Chamber, and will be proceeded with in the order in which they have been entered.

THE PRODUCE EXCHANGE.

The managers of the above named organization have rented the premises No. 33 Pearl street, where, in future, the Arbitration and other committees of the Exchange will meet. The old quarters in the basement of the building have been in a terrible condition on account of high tides and all attempts to render them dry have been unavailing.

At a meeting of the Exchange yesterday the following named gentlemen were admitted to membership, viz.:—A. P. Agresta, Thomas H. Butler, James B. Chapman, H. R. Duval, Louis Frank, Alixis Godellett, James S. Harris, S. Jenny, Jr., James Kingan, A. E. Smith, A. N. Staples and G. F. Walker.

Meeting Yesterday—Trouble with the Railroads.

An important meeting of the Produce Exchange was held at noon yesterday. Mr. Franklin Edson, the President of the organization, was called upon to preside, and the action of the Erie and New York Central was discussed. It appears that free lighterage deliveries of grain will cease after the 21st inst., except in five car lots (from point of shipment), and that all deliveries of lots less than five cars must be made from track at Thirty-third street or Jersey City, and that small lots will not be aggregated to make five cars.

It was of this arbitrary and, it was contended, unjust action of the companies, the Exchange meeting had met to complain. Mr. Carlos Cobb offered a preamble and resolutions, showing the effect of the proposed action, and moved that a committee of five gentlemen engaged in the grain trade be appointed to confer with the companies and report the result of their conference at a future meeting. The following were adopted:—

Whereas the Erie Railway and New York Central and Hudson River Railroad companies have given notice that from and after the 21st inst. free lighterage deliveries of grain in less than five car lots (from point of shipment) will cease; that all deliveries of lots less than five cars will be made from track and Thirty-third street or Jersey City, and that lots will not be aggregated to make five cars; whereas by this action the three trunk lines, including the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, deprive New York city of the valuable trade in car grain which the establishment of the through line of cars has created; whereas we consider the reimposition of lighterage charges upon car grain, as mentioned above, a step backward, which will reflect great loss upon the trade of New York by reason of an unjust and unnecessary discrimination against this and in favor of other markets; whereas we believe that this action will prove detrimental to the interests of the railway companies who having encouraged and built the enormous trade cannot now afford to diminish it; and whereas it appears to us that the interests of the merchants and railway companies are interested in retaining and fostering the trade: therefore

Resolved, That a committee of six members of the grain trade be appointed to confer with the representatives of the three trunk lines of railway upon this subject, and report at a future meeting.

COTTON STORAGE.

At the Cotton Exchange the report of the Committee on Trade recommending the leasing of the American Dock property at Staten Island has been adopted by the Board of Managers, and the opinion of counsel is desired in regard to the leasing of it for five years for cotton storage. The matter will be submitted to the Exchange for their action.

The owner of the property states that it will be ready in thirty days to store 40,000 bales. The following are the terms:—

Labor—For taking in and out of warehouses, twelve and one-half (12½) cents per bale.

Storage—For each month, twelve and one-half (12½) cents per bale; for each half month or less thereafter, eight (8) cents.

Lighterage—For all cottons, either to or from the docks, to be done promptly, for twenty (20) cents per bale, for all sized lots, from five (5) bales upward.

If compresses are desired on the premises or other work performed by the yard it will be done on reasonable terms. There are five wire cables now under contract, and one will be devoted exclusively to the use of the Exchange.

BUTTER AND CHEESE EXCHANGE.

Some months ago it was decided to have a daily "call" on butter, &c., similar to that on the Stock Exchange. To this end the Committee on the Butter Trade were instructed to prepare rules for the government of transactions. These rules were adopted, and yesterday the new system was put in operation for the first time. The attendance was not as large as might have been, perhaps, expected, nor the bidding so lively, owing, doubtless, to the novelty of the experiment. Several sales, amounting to nearly $6,000, and bids and offers were made in nearly all the grades on the list.

The following are the different grades as set forth:—

Extras—Eastern of this grade shall be composed of selections from the finest grades of fresh made sorts, and shall be of the highest standard of table butter. The same classification of Western must be fine flavored, fresh made butter, in uniform packages and in good condition.

Firsts shall be choice butter, yellow and of uniform natural color in the season, sweet on tops and sides and properly seasoned, in good style of packages and in good condition.

Seconds shall consist of a good, sound, solid grade of butter, uniform in color, in good style of packages and in good condition.

Thirds shall embrace all sorts between the quality too poor to be classed as seconds and the grade above grease butter.

The rules governing the trade do not essentially differ in spirit from those adopted in other similar branches of trade, the one most worthy of notice being the following:—

Rule 9—On all sales of butter by members of this Exchange payment in fifteen days shall be considered as cash, and when a longer credit is granted buyers' notes shall be taken and interest charged after fifteen days, unless by special agreement to the contrary.

This was adopted for the reason that heretofore the practice had grown up of allowing producers and dealers in the country to ship butter here, drawing against it to nearly or quite the amount of its probable value, while sales were made here at from cash to sixty days' credit, so that dealers here would often find that they had paid for it a long time before they could hope to receive anything for it. This caused the use of a large capital, and in many cases serious embarrassment. The new plan, it is believed, will work well, and in a short time arrangements will be perfected for adding the article of eggs to the call list and bringing the trade under similar regulations.

THE INDECENT ITALIAN.

The Insulter of Lady Advertisers in the Herald Discharged at the Tombs.

Carlo Bondeiro Pauciatichi, the Italian who was arrested by Central Office detectives on Monday for sending indecent letters to ladies advertising in the HERALD, was brought up at the Tombs Police Court yesterday afternoon, before Judge Wandell. In support of his motion for the discharge of the prisoner, Mr. Price, his counsel, said that there was no law touching the case. The prisoner had addressed these letters to parties to him unknown. They were not published or uttered publicly. They were from one individual to another. The State had nothing to do with the affair. If the charge was sending obscene matter through the mails, then it was the duty of the United States authorities to take cognizance of the matter. The Police Judge had no right to interfere. The prisoner should be tried in the United States Courts for any offence he had committed in violating the United States laws regarding the sending of matter through the mails. Judge Wandell, after long deliberation, said he would not hold the prisoner on the charge as presented to him. It was not the duty of the State Courts to protect the purity of the United States mail; and, consequently, he would have to discharge the prisoner.

RIOT AMONG TUNNEL MEN.

Arrest of the Ringleaders.

Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, a serious fight occurred among about fifty of the laborers—Corkonians and Fardowners—employed on the new tunnel of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, at the corner of Central and Laidlaw avenues, Jersey City.

The men employed on the tunnel, to the number of several hundred, were paid off yesterday, after which they indulged freely in drink, and, as a natural result, there was more or less fighting.

At the shaft on Central avenue a fight occurred between a Corkonian and a Fardowner, which was taken up by the friends of the two factions until some fifty men were engaged in battle, and stones and clubs were freely used, and quite a number of the combatants were injured. At the commencement of the trouble word had been sent to the Third precinct station house, when Sergeant Newton, with a squad of men, made a descent and dispersed the rioters. They captured the ringleaders, Thomas McAndrews, son of the contractor, John Casey and Patrick Quill, who were held to await an examination.

THE WAR BETWEEN THE STEAMSHIP COMPANIES.

As mentioned exclusively in yesterday's HERALD, the steamship companies belonging to the North Atlantic steamship Conference have commenced their bitter opposition fight. Rates to Liverpool now vary from $12 to $15. It is reported that the Cunard line are willing to spend $500,000 to defeat the National line on the Boston route. Uncle Sam's line, from Philadelphia to Liverpool, is advertising "lowest rates," which is said, by those who know, to mean $11. This line, as stated in yesterday's HERALD, has systematically refused to enter the North Atlantic Steamship Conference. The agents of the companies yesterday all presented a most heartbroken appearance, and say that it is an outrage that the Conference should again be broken up on account of the Cunard and National lines' Boston fight.

Maritime Miscellany.

SHIP SARANAK, which has been repairing at Philadelphia for the past two months, finished a few days ago, and has been thoroughly overhauled. The entire cost was about $15,000.

SHIP UNION, Greenleaf, which sailed from Leghorn Aug 25 for Boston, took forward all the cargo of brig Tancredi (Ital), which put back to Leghorn June 26 in distress.

BARK HENRY FLITNER, Patten, from New York for St Jago, before reported wrecked, went ashore at about 4 AM, Aug 31, on the south point of Middle Reef, which extends from the southern extremity of Grand Turk, TI, and by sunrise there was 7 feet water in the hold. Soon after daylight she was boarded from the boats from Salt Cay and Grand Turk; finding it impossible to save the vessel, the captain appointed a wrecking master and abandoned her to the wreckers, who saved a large portion of the cargo, stores, sails, rigging and other material, which were sold for the benefit of all concerned. The hull with a portion of the cargo in the lower hold, drifted from the reef night of Sept 2, and was followed next morning by the wreckers and would no doubt be towed to a place of safety.

BARK JEAN PIERRE (Fr), at San Francisco 14th from Acajutla, from Aug 17 to 20, lat 17 N, lon 116 W, had strong breezes from NW and SW, which blew away several sails.

BARK URIEL (Ger), at New Haven 21st from Aberdeen, on the 2d ult, while in lat 56 23, lon 21 15, shifted cargo to port side.

BARK MINERVA (Br), from London, at Philadelphia Sept 21, reports having had heavy weather, and lost jibboom.

BRIG DIANA (Ger), from Mexico for Falmouth, E, before reported ashore on the Marquesas, took assistance and was towed into Key West Sept 19, tight.

BRIG EMILY WATERS—A schr has been chartered at Galveston to take a steam pump to the brig Emily Waters, ashore near San Louis Pass, and an endeavor will be made to free the vessel of water.

SCHR PASCAGOULA, from New Orleans for Houston with coal, before reported ashore near Hitchcock's Reef, near Galveston, remained hard and fast Sept 16. The shallowness of the water near the vessel renders it impossible for a towboat to approach close enough to be of any service.

SCHR PINTA, from Baltimore for Bangor, Me, with a cargo of corn, put into Norfolk Sept 21, in a leaky condition.

SCHR ECLIPSE, before reported struck by lightning at Savannah Sept 17, will be compelled to have a new mainmast put in.

SCHR KATE E BUCHANAN, from New York for Houston (which was supposed to be the dismasted vessel seen off Aransas Pass, Texas, Sept 12), is reported ashore on the coast of Texas, but will be got off.

SCHR TEXAS RANGER, Buchanan, lumber laden, from Pascagoula for Indianola, before reported missing, was totally wrecked on the coast of Texas; all hands lost.

SCHR LIZZIE C HICKMAN, from Kennebec, dismasted, was towed up to Philadelphia from the Delaware Breakwater yesterday.

STEAMER RIVER BELLE, before reported burned and sunk at pier 8 North River, has been raised and floated by the Coast Wrecking Co.

A new and useful system of ice signalling has been recently adopted by one of the Canadian steamship lines. The company has issued to all its commanders an ice chart and tallying ice signals, by the use of which steamers passing each other can learn when and where dangerous bergs and ice fields have been encountered. Flags by day and colored lamps by night by steamers indicate to passing vessels the exact position of the ice met. The ensign hoisted above these means berg ice, and the union jack means field ice likely to imperil navigation.

GALVESTON, Sept 16—The dismasted whaling brig F H Moore, of Boston, remains at anchor in the channel awaiting the return of her Captain, who has gone North for spars and rigging for her; and the dismasted schr Indianola remains in a berth alongside of Kuhn's Wharf awaiting spars and rigging. It is not probable that either vessel will be ready for sea for some weeks.

HALIFAX, NS, Sept 22—Captain Woods, of the brig Florence, arrived to-day from Demerara, reports having experienced a hurricane on the 4th inst and lost the maintopmast. On the 6th he fell in with the schr Militia, Captain Holmes Israel, of Hillsboro, NB (six hands, all told), from Annapolis, with a cargo of lumber for Port au Prince. At 7 o'clock A M, on the 5th, the latter encountered a hurricane in lat 33 long 67 10 and was dismasted, the deck swept of their deck load, the boat's galley lost and the cabin filled with water. The crew were transferred to the Florence. When at the edge of the Gulf Stream the Florence passed a brigantine on her beam ends, with no signs of life on board; the sides were painted black and the iron works, bulwarks and yards white; she was coppered.

Brig Adelaide, Capt Porter, from Bridgewater for Barbados, with lumber, put into Liverpool, NS, on the 19th inst, dismasted and with the loss of deck load.

SHIPBUILDING—At Waldoboro, Me, Reed, Welt & Co are expecting to get their ship off in a few weeks. H Kennedy & Co have a fine schr ready for rigging. William Fish has a schr of 500 tons, which will be ready for sea in four weeks. J Clark & Son have already built and launched a fine barkentine, and have on the stocks at present a ship, which will be ready for sea before the river freezes up.

Notice to Mariners.

By direction of Inspector Trenchard, of the New York Lighthouse District, work has been begun by D C Chase upon the placing of range lights on the Raritan River, between Amboy and New Brunswick.

LIGHTHOUSE FOR NEW HAVEN.

NEW HAVEN, Sept 22, 1874.

To-day the sub-structure of the new lighthouse on the southwest ledge, at the entrance of this harbor, was completed, and the contractors, Beattie & Co, of Branford, celebrated the event by a banquet on the top of the huge cement-filled cylinder, which serves as a foundation for the future house. The new light will be a great improvement for this harbor.
